Crown and People Honor Memory of Finance Minister When Laid to Rest

Impressive Scenes Witnessed as Late Mr. Robb Is Buried

Obsequies, While Intended to Be Simple, Take On Great Dignity Because of Presence of Many Notables—Hundreds Attend Funeral and Floral Tributes Come From All Parts of World

Valleyfield Turns Into City of Great Mourning

VALLEYFIELD, Que., Nov. 13.—To this city of mourning today came representatives of the King, and the Governor-General, the diplomatic corps at Ottawa, bankers and captains of industry, to lay in the little cemetery near the shores of the St. Lawrence, the body of Hon. James A. Robb, Finance Minister of Canada. Joining with them were hundreds of folk from this city and district who were present to pay a last tribute to "Jim" Robb, alderman and mayor of Valleyfield, local miller and, as was said by Rev. J. G. Greig, pastor of the United Church in which the funeral service took place, "One of God's Christian gentlemen."

AN IMPRESSIVE DIGNITY
It had been intended to make the obsequies of the Minister as simple as possible, but they could not help taking on an impressive dignity in view of the presence of so many distinguished men, men representing Great Britain, the United States, France and Japan, as well as the Dominion Government, and every walk of business activity in the country.

Wreaths in hundreds poured into Valleyfield all day yesterday and today, and some could not be taken from their cases until, after the funeral on account of late arrival.

Floral offerings bore the names of all the great institutions and business houses in Canada, while Libras and Conservatives alike sent wreaths. One card read, "From the Government of Australia."

In all they bore a beautiful testimony to the far-flung esteem in which Mr. Robb was held.

VALLEYFIELD IN MOURNING
Valleyfield itself was dressed in mourning. The stone-faced city hall that knew Mr. Robb so well was hung with funeral streamers, flags were half-masted everywhere, while pictures of the Minister surrounded with laurels were to be seen in many a store window.

The funeral services were divided into the private and intimate rites for the family of Mr. Robb at his stately old home on Jean Baptiste Street, which had been converted into a bower of flowers, and the church services.

FUNERAL PROCESSION
Following this simple ceremony, the body was transferred to a hearse, and the flowers placed in five automobiles. The procession to the church was then formed, the honorary pallbearers taking places on either side of the hearse. They were Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, and Hon. J. G. Greig, Minister of the Interior.

Mr. William Phillips, Minister to Canada, Sends in His Resignation to President Hoover

NO SUCCESSOR IS AS YET SELECTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Mr. William Phillips, United States Minister to Canada and a distinguished diplomat, has resigned from the American foreign service. The official pronouncement on his resignation comes from the State Department in the following form:
"The department regrets to announce the resignation of Hon. William Phillips as Minister to Canada. The President was very reluctant to accept this resignation and asked Mr. Phillips whether he might care to accept another post in the service since his career as a diplomatic officer of the United States has been long and successful. To the President's regret, Mr. Phillips felt the time has come when he wished to bring up his children in the United States, and therefore felt himself unable to reconsider."

SEALERS WAIT ON PREMIER WITH CLAIMS

Residents of Victoria Still Have Faith in Eventually Obtaining $450,000 for Loss of Industry

CANADA MILLION; SEALERS NOTHING

The visit of the Hon. W. L. King, Premier of Canada, to Victoria, was made the occasion yesterday afternoon for the bringing to his personal attention of an old claim which a number of residents of Victoria have against the Government of Canada. Headed by W. A. Adams, who represents the three hundred and fifty shareholders of the Victoria Sealing Company, Ltd., which it is stated went out of the active sealing business as the result of an understanding that the sealers were to be compensated to the extent of $450,000 if the industry was abandoned. A deputation waited on the Premier at the Empress Hotel and presented him with a petition, with copies of certain correspondence pertinent to the issue, and requested the fullest consideration of his Government in connection with the matter, to the end that the shareholders of the company, and others actively engaged in the industry, who were deprived of their then means of livelihood, might receive their just compensation.

He was welcomed to the city yesterday morning as he left the night steamer at the Canadian Pacific wharf by Mayor Anscomb, on behalf of Victoria; Mr. Arthur Partidge, representing the Lieutenant-Governor; Mr. E. E. Heath, representing the Victoria Liberal executive and Capt. R. W. Murray, marine superintendent of the B.C. Coast Steamship Service.

He was driven to Government House, where he has been the guest of Hon. R. R. Bruce during his visit to the capital.

Mr. King was in conference with Hon. S. P. Tolmie, Premier of the province, yesterday, for some time, during which various matters outstanding between the two Governments were discussed by them.

CONFERENCE SUBJECTS

The official visit of the Prime Minister of Canada to the Premier of the province was marked by the presentation of all the ministers of the Crown at present in the capital by Dr. Tolmie.

Following that, matters of pressing importance between the two Governments was discussed by the heads of the two Governments. The proposed Salmon Fisheries Treaty between the Dominion and the United States, as affecting the rehabilitation of the Fraser River was touched upon, this being a matter in which the Provincial Government is very strongly interested. As was pointed out, Mr. King was disinclined to state definitely the position of his Government, without consulting the ministers directly in charge of the portfolios.

With regard to the return of the railway lands to the Province, Mr. King was able to assure Dr. Tolmie that this matter was progressing satisfactorily, and that it might be expected to be brought to its consummation at a fairly early date.

There were a few details that had to be worked out, but there would be no unnecessary delay in the bringing about of the settlement.

The freight rates case, which has been created by the Doukhobor trouble, Dr. Tolmie discussed in a general way the situation as it affected this province. Mr. King manifested a disposition to lend a very sympathetic ear to the appeals of the Province in this regard. If the occasion should arise that called for special action, Mr. King expressed his readiness to come to the assistance of the Province in grappling with it.

BANKS' ACTION INTENDED TO FIRM MARKET

Canadian Institutions Take Steps to Restore Confidence in Stock Markets of Dominion

MORAL EFFECT IS SURE TO FOLLOW

MONTREAL, Nov. 13.—Reassuring indication that, in the opinion of the banks of Canada, deflation of stock values of the Canadian markets had reached its logical bottom and that the banks are prepared to step into the breach, in the interests of stabilization, was forthcoming tonight when the leading banks acting together, announced here that they would accept 15 per cent on call loans to brokers on stocks selling over $30 and $10 per share on issues below that price.

In taking this action to ease the credit position for the brokers, the banks will be benefiting a large number of marginal clients, for brokers generally feel that this will enable them to reduce their marginal requirements and preclude the necessity in many cases of sending out further calls.

The moral effect of this constructive action thus anticipated will be even greater in restoring confidence than the actual aid rendered, great as this will be.

Authorities of Exchange At New York Take Action To Find Causes of Slump

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Prices on the New York securities markets sank to new low levels for the third successive session today as Stock Exchange authorities began inquiry to determine, if possible, the character and source of the relentless flood of selling which has washed away many billions of dollars in quoted values in the last few weeks.

Net declines on the New York Stock Exchange ranged from $1 to $19 a share, although only a sprinkling of the high grade issues showed losses of more than $10. On the New York curb the losses in active issues ranged from $1 to $16, with a few high priced specialties down $20 to $80 a share.

Trading was in enormous volume. Sales on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 7,761,450 shares, and on the curb exchange 7,779,650 shares, setting new high records for the three-hour sessions.

INDUSTRIES OF BRITAIN DEVELOPING

Are Learning the Benefit of Mass Production and Making Great Progress With Output Sales

CANADA MAY GET BRANCH PLANTS

VANCOUVER, Nov. 13.—"They think more of us now than ever in England. They know more about Canada, and that makes them like Canada better."

This was the outstanding impression gained by Colonel Victor Spencer, who returned this morning from a six weeks' trip to the Old Country. He took his two daughters to place them in school.

In a brief chat today Colonel Spencer said: "Canada got most valuable publicity out of the visit of Mr. Thomas, and the later tour of the Prime Minister. Everywhere one went people had a good word to say about Canada."

"Among industrial directors there is a very noticeable tendency to consider favorably the establishment of branches in Canada, and I feel certain that in the next year or so there may be a very definite move on the part of a considerable number of manufacturing concerns to erect real factories here as important branches of the home plants."

"Quite a big change has come over the situation in their larger manufacturing methods in the Old Country. They have learned the theory and practice of mass production. It certainly does you good to see the tremendous number of British manufactured motor cars on the highways of England, Scotland and Ireland. They may be creating new traffic problems, but at any rate the congestion is due to stimulated British production, not to foreign importations."

TO SECURE DATA

The whole matter was discussed, and it was agreed that the first move necessary would be in the line of getting full information of as exact a character as possible.

It was proposed that there should be a representative of the Dominion of Canada, one from the United States and one from British Columbia named to make a thorough investigation of the whole question. Members felt that there was need to carry out this work of investigation without delay, and that it should be done during the coming year.

Such a work, it was suggested, should be along the line of investigation into the proposed routes; the feasibility of the carrying out of the project; the cost which would be entailed in the construction of the highway; the profits likely to be derived locally from the opening up of the districts traversed; the opportunity for the development of the districts traversed; the opportunity for the development of the districts traversed; the opportunity for the development of the districts traversed.

HUGE FORTUNE DWINDES TO NOTHINGNESS

Mr. Ogden Armour Once Possessed $200,000,000 But Estate at Death Is Minus $2,000,000

CHICAGO PACKER MADE BIG LOSSES

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The estate of Mr. J. Ogden Armour, once valued at $200,000,000, was closed yesterday in probate court with a $2,000,000 loss to family creditors.

It was the world war with its attendant demands for feeding armed millions that placed the millionaire packer high among the multimillionaires.

Then peace and governments cancelled a mountain of orders with the Armour Company.
World markets were flooded with Armour products and the pioneer Chicago packer was said to have lost $100,000,000 almost overnight. Deflation of land and security values, following in the wake of peace, melted away the remainder of the once huge fortune.

FAMILY CREDITORS

His wife and daughter, wealthy in their own right, lent Mr. Armour more than $3,000,000. And it was these claims that finally placed him "in the red."
According to the final report, his daughter, Mrs. John J. Mitchell, Jr., received about $500,000 in settlement of a $2,000,000 claim and his wife, Mrs. Lolita Sheldon Armour, was paid back $750,000 on a claim of $1,000,000.

FAULTY MAIN SPRAYS STREET

Break in High Pressure
Water Main on Government Street Provides Spectacular Incident

RIVULET FLOWS ON JOHNSON STREET

When the high-pressure water main of the old salt water system on Government Street, between Johnson and Yates Streets, burst about 9:50 o'clock last night, the water broke through the concrete and asphalt surface on the west side of Government Street and turned Johnson Street into a miniature river. The force with which the water travels through such a main was clearly portrayed as it shot out through the lengthy crack in the surface and at certain points was spraying to a height of six feet. Repair work will commence this morning.

Traffic proceeding south on Government Street was diverted to the other side of the road by a policeman on duty at the spot. The way in which the water raised certain parts of Government Street made travel on the west side somewhat dangerous.

Spraying water from the broken street and certain parts of the sidewalk soon awakened the curiosity of passers-by, and in a very short time hundreds had arrived on the scene.

Store owners on the west side of Government Street came down to see if their stores were in any danger of being flooded. They were reassured on arrival.

The New England Cafe, about forty feet south of the commencement of the crack in the road, had a little water in the basement, but not enough to do any damage. The other premises directly in front of the rushing water have no basements.

The turning off of the water going through the main by members of the staff of the city waterworks, put an end to the spraying water and the temporary river run down Johnson Street. It also put two fire hydrants, one at Yates and Government, and the other at View and Government, out of commission.

The pallbearers were old personal friends of the deceased, English and French.

As the cortege left the house, a line of citizen mourners began to gather, until it reached a length of several hundred yards. This was Mr. Robb brought to the small church after a journey across the city. Here a service participated in by all the Protestant pastors in the Valleyfield and neighborhood was held. Those taking part were Rev. J. G. Greig, Rev. C. Younger Lewis, Presbyterian minister; Rev. J. G. McLeod, Huntingdon, and Rev. W. J. H. Lummis, Anglican rector of St. Mark's, Valleyfield. The church was filled with wreaths, in which roses, lilies of the valley and asters predominated.

Rev. J. G. Greig received the body as Mr. Robert Anderson, the church organist, played the Chopin Funeral March.

Owing to the large body of mourners it was some time before the body could be seated. The church was quite inadequate to hold everybody who desired to attend and seats were limited to ticket holders only.

after until further notice. New York firms are required to present their first statement by Saturday noon, while the reports of out-of-town members must be on file not later than Monday noon.

While Stock Exchange authorities declined to state whether they would make their findings public, brokers, generally, were of the opinion that if it was definitely determined that professional speculators

in vessels and equipment, have as yet received no compensation.

In the year 1911, the last year that sealing was permitted, the sealing company did not outfit any vessels for the pursuit of fur seals, and apparently for this reason, their claims, as well as those of the men they employed, were not allowed. In that year five independent schooners left Victoria and continued sealing during the season. Four of them divided later sixty thousand dollars, which amount was paid them from the money received from the United States Government by the Government of Canada, while the fifth one, the Umbrina, which happened to be run down and sunk, did not receive anything, the crew suffering with the owner.

opportunities for developing tourist trade as a result of the construction, and all other matters pertinent to the proposition.

ENTHUSIASM SHOWN
The United States delegates to the conference were especially enthusiastic about the move. It is felt that the construction of the highway to the Land of the Midnight Sun will mean the making of the whole Pacific Coast. It will attract the attention of the rest of the continent in a way that has never been brought home before that there is something on the Coast that is unique.

The opportunity to motor to the Arctic Circle and the land made famous as a field for placer mining, would have an appealing call upon the millions of people of the continent who would include a tour of the whole Pacific coast from Mexico to the Arctic during their visit.

It is pointed out by the delegates from Seattle that what the Pacific Highway has done for the Pacific States and British Columbia would be only a fraction of what would be derived from this road into what would seem a new world to the tourist.

CONTRIBUTION FROM U.S.
In their enthusiasm to see the scheme carried out there is advocated by residents of the United States themselves contribution to the construction of the highway through British Columbia as a means of insuring the work.

It is anticipated that on his return to Ottawa Mr. King will take up with the authorities the project, and some concerted action may be started along the lines suggested at the conference.

for Series on Coast

VANCOUVER, Nov. 13.—The offer of Regina Roughriders, crowned champions of Western Canada by the annual meeting of the Western Canada Rugby Union on Monday, to come to Vancouver for a series of games on the Coast for the Western title, has been turned down by the British Columbia Canadian Rugby Union.

The Roughriders wired the British Columbia officials that they would require a guarantee of $1,800 and a split of the gate receipts over and above the guarantee, after expenses had been paid. Coast officials sent a telegram informing the Roughriders that the guarantee asked was not acceptable and that British Columbia was prepared to give them only the amount stipulated by the constitution of the Western Canada Rugby Union. The Prairie team was also informed that, with the inter-collegiate series scheduled for Vancouver, November 20 and 23, it was too late in the season to bring them here.

"DEFENSIVE PARITY"

The attitude that will, in every likelihood, be assumed by Japan at the forthcoming Five-Power Conference on naval limitations is defined by the Tokyo correspondent of The London Times. In effect the dictum of Admiral Kato, who represented Japan at the Washington Conference, still holds good, namely, that the size of Japan's fleet will vary with the size of other fleets, but her naval policy will not change. Japan, for one thing, must have a fleet which will measure up to, and in fact be superior to that maintained by Russia in the Pacific. Her fleet must be strong enough, moreover, to cope with any fleet which might be sent to Japan for hostile purposes. She has to keep open the communications with her sources of food and vital supplies on the Asiatic mainland, for about one-fourth of Japan's trade comes over the short sea routes in the China and Yellow Seas. In other words, her naval policy is designed to keep command of the waters that connect her with Korea, Manchuria and China.

Of Japan's present fleet twenty-one of the thirty-three cruisers are of the 5,000-6,000-ton type. Of the remainder four, though armed with eight-inch guns, are of only 7,100 tons standard displacement. The Tokyo writer points out that nearly half of her destroyers are of the smaller type, unfit for work on the vast area of the Pacific. Then, again, two-thirds of her submarine tonnage is made up of boats of under 1,000 tons, which could not cross the Pacific. The character of the fleet is, therefore, for the purpose of defence. It is not of a character, for instance, that it could make descents on such places as the Philippines, Hawaii or Australia. Japan wants supremacy in home waters, and that is the crux of her naval policy.

Japan will enter the Five-Power Conference, therefore, with the determination to insure that whatever is done it will not interfere with her policy of being able to meet any situation for defensive purposes. For her the motto in naval limitations is "defensive parity," but she must define herself what her defensive requirements are. Japan believes, for instance, that a 70 per cent fleet in home waters would be as good as America's 100 per cent fleet would be after the latter had crossed the Pacific. Japan agreed to a 60 per cent ratio at the Washington Conference, but only after an understanding was reached that no new naval bases to facilitate the passage of warships would be constructed. Japan's naval officers consider that a 70 per cent ratio is the lowest that confers "defensive parity."

No doubt from this explanation of Japan's attitude by the Tokyo newspaper correspondent the question of "parity" will loom large at the Five-Power Conference. As to what is "parity" two nations may agree, but it will be a more difficult matter to reach an agreement where five nations with defensive aims are discussing the subject from their different angles and in relation to each other. "Parity" may be a blessed word, like Mesopotamia or Abracadabra, but it is impossible of definition because the naval needs differ according to trade, population, the length of sea coasts, the commercial routes to be guarded, the merchant vessels to be protected, the strategic considerations and a multitude of other angles. There is, in fact, no such thing as parity where defence is concerned. What defence is needed is and must remain a matter of self-determination with any nation.

LIMITS OF AIRSHIP FLIGHTS

The trials of the British airships have brought forth many fanciful tales of what they are expected to accomplish. Between these accounts and the actual expectations of the scientists who have designed the ships there is a great gap. With dimensions challenging those of our ocean-going steamships, with a capacity of five million cubic feet and accommodation for a hundred people, these two airships are formidable and wonderful beyond all precedent; but they are only a hope, a promise of what may be. It is, perhaps permissible, therefore, to remind people that there is no expectation that these monsters of the air will be able to sail anywhere at any time. Although the elevators of an airship normally control the height at which the vessel is to cruise the uprush of heated air in the most dangerous of tropical areas is so rapid and violent that no elevator controls could strive successfully against it. In spite of the skill of mechanical invention and the art of the navigator of the air, the vessel would be thrust into altitudes which would endanger it, and would cause such an enormous expansion of the gas balloons as to involve bursting or the letting out of such quantities of gas as to reduce buoyancy when normal latitudes were reached. Areas such as those must at present be avoided, and therefore, it is futile to write of the future of airships as if they were to sail all routes at all seasons.

Ice keeps steamships out of polar seas; heat will keep airships out of the most dangerous of tropical latitudes. It is curious to reflect that heated air obtained by lighting fires in the carrier below the balloon, raised the first man-carrying balloons for their initial flights through the air, and that air heated by the sun is to defy the attempts at world-wide flight by the latest descendants of the old balloons. Apart from all considerations as to the tropics, however, definite limits to the powers of the airship are recognized by their contrivers. It is true that the Graf Zeppelin has shown other airships the way round the world; but neither she nor any other airship yet thought of could maintain time-table sailings to match the regularity of steamships.

The people behind the British airships are scientists, not speculators, and they declare, without hesitation or apology, that there will be many days between the beginning of December and the end of February when it will be impossible for airships to venture over the Atlantic. They assert that it would have been possible to predict the failure of every aeroplane which has been lost in trying to fly from England to America or from America to England. Constant exchange of weather reports between the two countries enables the authorities on both sides of the Atlantic to estimate the character of the conditions for an Atlantic passage. As the meteorological offices on both sides are at present able to notify farmers in advance of several days of fine weather, so they will some day foretell the weather suitable for an Atlantic flight, and airships will fly or stay at home in accordance with such forecasts.

THE EDINBURGH REVIEW

It is perhaps symptomatic of the superficiality of modern society that such a publication as The Edinburgh Review should have ceased to exist in the one hundred and twenty-seventh year of its age. The reason given is that readers now-a-days are unwilling to wait for a few months for observations on life, letters, history and society. In other words, what are wanted are up-to-the-minute judgments, often hurriedly reached. The ability of envisioning affairs in their proper perspective still exists, but popular opinion is not particularly interested, the reason alleged being that the world is moving too fast and the interests constantly cropping up are too varied.

The disappearance of The Edinburgh Review is a reminder that the age of students is passing, or what students there are belong to the specialized order. The publication was founded in October, 1802, and through it, from the beginning, journalism was lifted to a higher level. Its greatest discovery in the years that followed was Lord Macaulay, whose style was ideal for the editorial purpose, and, as one commentator says, "The editorial purpose was ideal for the further cultivation of that style." Another great contributor was Sydney Smith, while such characters as Hazlett, Scott, Hallam, Thackeray, John Stuart Mill and Carlyle also wrote for its columns. So famous did The Review become that it was regarded as the literary arbiter in Great Britain, not giving place even to any publication issued in London. It did an ennobling service in literature and letters, made reputations which have lasted to the present day and some of which are likely to last for centuries. Now it has ceased to publish because of a declining number of those who enjoy such current literature. Tastes alter as the world advances. The alteration which makes it impossible for such a publication as The Edinburgh Review to exist is one that is not a pleasant reflection on the progress being made by civilization.

China, like Russia, exercises a severe censorship of the press. In those newspapers within the domain of the Nationalist Party only items of news favorable to the regime at Nanking are allowed to be published. On this account it is not always possible to know what is happening in China. The country's march to freedom can proceed but slowly with a muzzled press.

WOMEN'S HATS

Men never give up hope that some day women will make the most of themselves, or at any rate of their looks. But cheerfulness on that score is becoming increasingly difficult when one sees the hats they are wearing today. A little while ago there seemed a gleam of something better when the big hat, with curves in it, returned to give what nearly all faces need—a soft and shadowy setting. But the big hat has apparently become unstuck, and today a walk in the streets or lunch in a restaurant is spoiled by the straight, hard, unrelieved, close-pressed line that is slashed across their foreheads by the present style of women's hats. It is a merciless line; and the only reason why every woman is submitting to it is that it suits one in a million of the girls of seventeen. And even she would look better in almost anything else.—London Daily Express.

SOCIALISM IN AUSTRALIA

Socialism has for some time been the curse of Australia, holding back prosperity, demanding un-economic wages, inflating the cost of living, helping to pile the population into the towns and checking employment in a land where it is available in superabundance for every honest and energetic worker. Australian Socialism in late years has become more and more penetrated with so-called Communist elements, whose tendency to violence has been painfully demonstrated. Socialist legislation, which was heading rich Queensland towards ruin, had experimented on a large scale with compulsory arbitration.—The Patriot, London.

Note and Comment
By R. R. D.

Presidential messages are usually addressed to and intended for the ears of the people of the United States. In Washington on the eve of Armistice Day President Hoover delivered a message which appears to have been addressed to and intended for the ears of the people of the entire world. Mr. Hoover's speech was carefully prepared and was delivered in the usual Hoover way, in a conversational tone and without either rhetoric or emotion. The message was a sincere and convincing plea for world peace and indicated how far the President was prepared to go personally to obtain and maintain perpetual peace.

The most interesting part of the President's message to the world was with reference to freedom of the seas in time of war—for war is regarded by Mr. Hoover as a possible contingency notwithstanding the League of Nations, the Kellogg Peace Pact and the prospect of perpetual concord between Great Britain and the United States. If there is any possibility of discord between Great Britain and the United States, that possibility is contingent upon an agreement on the delicate question of freedom of the seas. The seas are free by universal consent during times of peace.

The United States desires freedom of the seas in times of war as well as in times of peace because she is a prolific producer of goods, products of her factories and products of her soil, and it is essential to her prosperity that the world markets for such goods shall never be closed. Great Britain is a comparatively small country territorially with a relatively large population, which could easily be reduced to a state bordering on famine if the seas were at any time closed to the passage of food-carrying ships. Hitherto Great Britain has kept the seas open at all times by the strength of her navy. If her navy is to be reduced in strength and cut down to "parity" with the navy of the United States, Great Britain will no longer be in a position to patrol all the seas and keep them open.

Without reference to the United States Senate President Hoover says he will make a suggestion which he believes will solve the difficult problem of freedom of the seas and meet all the objections of Great Britain. The President says he is going to propose that in case of war food shall not be regarded as contraband, but ships carrying food shall be permitted to move as freely and safely upon the waters as ships flying the insignia of the Red Cross and carrying nurses and sick or wounded soldiers.

The proposal of the President should remove the last possible obstacle to complete concord between the two great Anglo-Saxon Powers of the world. There seems to be little doubt that it will be accepted and endorsed by Great Britain, and if it is as readily accepted and endorsed by the Senate of the United States, it will be a guarantee of perpetual peace between nations which exercise a paramount moral and material influence upon all the other nations of the world.

But there are political guns of large calibre in the United States Senate. The Senators have often proved that they are very jealous of the treaty-making and agreement-sanctioning powers conferred upon them by the constitution. There is a chance that the Senate may think the President has been exceeding his constitutional powers and has been trying to spike and silence some of its big guns. The Senate has been endowed with executive as well as legislative powers. It is more prompt in the application of its executive powers than in the discharge of its legislative powers. It seems to be easy to block any legislative measures upon which there are Senatorial differences of opinion. The Senate has been discussing an apparently simple tariff measure for a large part of the Summer and well into the Winter and has not reached an agreement yet.

So that if the Senate has anything to say about the Hoover proposal for freedom of the seas, it may take a long time in saying it, and what it says may leave the proposal in a position similar to that of the controversial tariff measure. Mr. Hoover has said that his proposal for securing freedom of the seas has been made without consultation with anybody; that the idea and responsibility therefor are his entirely. That is just the situation which makes the outcome doubtful. The Senate has on more than one occasion expressed its belief that the President seems disposed to arrogate to himself powers he does not actually possess. Ever since the day of the Presidential election there has been friction between the executive and the legislative authority. The Senate has effectively blocked the most important of the measures suggested by the President. It would be a pity if the discord between the President and Congress should become a barrier to concord between Great Britain and the United States.

Government of France Is Once More Sustained

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The new Tardieu Government strengthened its position in the Chamber of Deputies today by winning a division with a majority of sixty during discussion of the national budget.

The chamber voted a motion of confidence in the Government for the third time since it appeared before Parliament last week. The vote was 317 to 267.

The Socialist section of the Opposition provoked the test of strength, a Socialist deputy moving that the first chapter of the budget be sent back to the finance committee. M. Tardieu opposed the motion and threatened to resign if it was accepted.

U.S. Apple Crop Reported to Be Far Below Usual

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The apple crop in the United States this year is short and the "Apple a Day" slogan may be suspended temporarily. Compared with that of last year it is off 23 per cent and 45,000,000 bushels below the average. Scab damage in the East and worm injury in the West have resulted in an inferior quality. Prices have already advanced and promise to be 25 per cent above a year ago.

The Rhyming Optimist
By Aline Michaels

BEHIND EACH CARE
No man has ever done his best.
In all his days of toil-filled hours,
Each feels within him, unexpressed,
His noblest deeds, his highest powers.

None ever built his staunchest boat,
None ever penned his finest line,
His deepest thought none ever wrote.

Nor ever traced his best design,
Sometimes it seems a cruel thing,
That such a gift must lie between
The dream and deed, although men bring
Their all to bridge those deeps unseen.

But each apparent ill has a good,
Though many seek for it in vain.
Still it is there, misunderstood,
Behind each care, behind each pain.

And so it is none does his best,
But ever seeks the light afar,
Of some bright goal, still unpossessed,
That guides him onward like a star.

THE Eiffel Tower on the Champ de Mars, Paris, was built for the purpose of the 1889 and since has been one of the show places of the city. The tower of iron lattice work reaches a thousand feet in the air, and its summit is made accessible by three elevators. Eiffel Tower is frequently used for meteorological purposes, but is better known for the powerful wireless at its peak.

WHEAT PRICES REBOUND FROM LOW RECORDS

Wave of Selling Marked Down Bottom Prices, but Reaction Came Later to Improve Market

NET GAIN MADE OVER WEDNESDAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The grain market wallowed in a wave of selling today and, sensitive to the demoralized values of securities, marked down new bottom prices before rebounding to finish higher than yesterday. The net gain for the day in the wheat pit was 1 1/4 to 1 3/4 bushels. Another good turnover of export business had turned the tide of prices favorable.

At one time during the session December wheat sold at $1.10, a record low for the season, and more than six cents cheaper than the figure the Federal Farm Board has fixed as the loan value of wheat. At the close the price was still 2 1/2 cents under that figure. Final wheat quotations were: December, 114 1/4 @ 114 1/2; March, 121 1/4; May, 123 @ 123 1/2; and July, 125 1/4. Rye, in a peculiarly touchy state because of the meagre prospects of further export business this year, tobogganed 9 1/2 cents from the early top price and then scooped up the other side of the hill almost as far. The end of the rise came at 96 1/2 cents for the December delivery, 1 1/4 up for the day and a recovery of eight cents from the minimum.

Taken as a whole, grains advanced 1/4 to 1 1/2 over yesterday's prices. Provisions suffered on the mid-session break, too, December lard dropping to $9.97, the lowest point since 1922.

PILOTAGE RATES ARE DISCUSSED

Chamber of Commerce Committee Presents Request to Captain Robertson

Yesterday morning the port development committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce met. Captain Robertson and asked for a reconsideration of the pilot rates in and out of the port of Victoria, and also that Victoria and Esquimalt should be made one port from the point of view of pilotage rates.

Captain Robertson, who is a director of pilotage for the Department of Marine and Fisheries at Ottawa, gave a sympathetic hearing to the views of the committee, at the same time making no promise. Colonel A. W. R. Wilby, agent here for the Federal Department of Marine and Fisheries, and pilot superintendent at Victoria, Capt. F. J. Saunders, pilotage superintendent for the province, and E. L. Haughton, superintendent of the Dominion wireless station here, were with Captain Robertson at this morning's meeting.

Captain Saunders has been examining the four local pilot boats which will be taken over by the Government if they are found satisfactory. The four ships are the C.O.J., the Association, the Pilot Station No. 1, and a vessel formerly used by the Canadian Pilots. It will be decided next week whether the ment.

Grain Shipments From Vancouver Are Cut in Half

VANCOUVER, Nov. 13.—Exports of grain from the port of Vancouver for the crop year to date totaled 8,880,187 bushels, approximately one-half of the volume of export for the corresponding period last year, according to the weekly statement of the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange, issued today.

Stocks in elevators totaled 9,510,624 bushels, with 2,445,309 bushels in transit westward. Ships at the port to load 796,799 bushels and bookings for the balance of this month are 2,062,932 bushels. December bookings reported so far amount to only 431,999 bushels.

The damage was estimated at half a million dollars. Several occupants of the building were rescued with difficulty by firemen, and it was believed no lives had been lost.

EXPLOSION KILLS THREE

MAYNARD, Mass., Nov. 13.—Three men were killed and others were injured by an explosion in the yard of the American Powder Company here last today. Officials of the plant said they could not explain the accident until after an investigation.

EMPIRE TRADE

Subject Is Discussed by Members of McBride Conservative Club (Incorporated)

The McBride Conservative Club (Incorporated), under its new president, Captain Hugh Allan, and officers, is meeting with renewed support and interest by its members and the meeting last night in the Amphion Hall showed that it was off to a good start for the new year. After the regular business had been transacted, which included the election of Mr. Harry Fensham as treasurer and Captain Tapley auditor, the meeting was thrown open to personal friends of the members. Captain Thain, M.C., gave a short address on Empire Trade, with special reference to the fruit trade. Mr. Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., also spoke briefly upon legislative matters. Afterwards card parties were arranged and refreshments served. The organization is entering upon an active programme for the Winter months and new members are being added.

MANY ATTEND MEMORIAL TO LATE MINISTER

Notable Gathering at Impressive Service at First United Church for Late Hon. James A. Robb

HUMAN QUALITY OF MAN EXTOLLED

Tribute to the loftiness of motive, the single-mindedness, honesty, sincerity of purpose and humility of the Hon. James A. Robb was given by the Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, pastor of the First United Church, in the course of the address which he delivered yesterday morning at the memorial service for the late Minister of Finance in the Dominion Government.

Attending the service with Hon. R. Randolph Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor, were Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada; Colonel the Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence; Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Health and Pensions; Senator A. Haydon, of Ottawa; Mrs. Ralston, Mrs. King, Miss Helen Mackenzie and Capt. W. H. Molson, representing the Provincial Government, were the Premier, Hon. S. P. Tomin; the Provincial Secretary, Hon. S. L. Howe; the Minister of Lands, Hon. F. P. Burden; the Minister of Mines, Hon. W. McKenzie; the Minister of Education, Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe; the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. W. Atkinson; Mr. D. B. Plunkett, Victoria member at Ottawa, was present. Representing the Navy were Commander L. W. Murray, R.C.N., senior naval officer, Esquimaux; Lieut. H. G. de Wolf and Lieut. C. H. Brown. The Army was represented by Brigadier-General J. Sutherland Brown, district officer commanding Military District No. 11; General J. W. Stewart, of Vancouver, and Lieut.-Colonel MacLean, of the Military Institute, Vancouver. Mayor Anson, Alderman Strath and other representatives of the city were present. Others in the congregation were Mr. T. D. Pattullo, Leader of the Opposition in the B.C. Legislature; Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald, of the B.C. Court of Appeal; Mr. Grant Hall, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway; Mr. D. C. Coleman, western vice-president; Mr. Ian Mackenzie, M.P.P.; Mr. W. H. Kinman, president of the Victoria Liberal Association; Mr. A. D. Macfarlane, president of the Victoria Laurier Club; Mr. B. C. Nicholas, Mr. W. Ivel, Mr. E. W. McMullen and Mr. George Bourne, of New York.

RESPECTED AND LOVED

Dr. Wilson, in his eulogy of the late Minister of Finance, spoke of those qualities which had made him respected and loved throughout Canada, rather than of the qualities which had distinguished his political relations. Everyone who knew his history as a public man knew how honorably he had discharged his difficult task, but few people knew the measure of the latent qualities which resided within him until the opportunity arose which called these into light.

Possessing very human traits, many characteristics entered into his personality to make him unique among men. None were less ostentatious; the more ostentatious the greater the task, the humbler the man became. He gave a sympathetic ear to any who sought his advice, and all such felt that their cause would have a just and impartial hearing.

Sincerity of purpose, loftiness of motive and honesty were qualities which every man prized who had ideals, regardless of political persuasion. These qualities the late Minister of Finance possessed in marked degree. He discharged his responsibilities not only for man but for God, and it was this deep-rooted faith which made his heart strong in the fulfillment of his duties.

HIS MONUMENT

"He reared his own monument, the monument of honor, respect and affection in the hearts of a nation which he served well," said Dr. Wilson, who added that the passing of such a statesman should be a challenge to all those who remained, a challenge to the right to carry on the work of the country, the right discharge of every responsible office. Such an exemplar should serve to dissipate something of the cynicism which existed concerning men in public office, a cynicism which tended to make the best type of young men unwilling to assume positions of such responsibility to enter politics. Men and women in the humbler walks of life should join in protesting against such an attitude, remembering the lofty manner in which such great men had acquitted themselves. No one who knew the late minister could feel anything but that the country was weaker and poorer because of his passing, for there were none who did not believe in his unselfishness and integrity.

Coinciding with the funeral service for Hon. J. A. Robb, late Minister of Finance of Canada, which was held yesterday at Valleyfield, Quebec, a memorial service was held at the First United Church here yesterday morning, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, the minister, officiating.

The presence of the Prime Minister of Canada and two of his Cabinet colleagues made the occasion of unusual interest.

A warm tribute to the public services of the late minister was paid by Dr. Wilson.

Hon. R. Bruce was accompanied by the Prime Minister of Canada, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Col. the Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence; Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Health and Pensions; Senator Andrew Haydon, of Ottawa; Mrs. H. King, Mrs. J. L. Ralston, Miss Helen Mackenzie and the Lieutenant-Governor's aide, Captain W. H. Molson.

The navy was represented by Commander L. W. Murray, R.C.N., senior naval officer; Lieut. H. G. de Wolfe, Lieut. C. H. Brown, and the army by Brig.-Gen. G. Sutherland Brown, C.M.G., D.S.O., district officer commanding Military District No. 11; Gen. J. W. Stewart, of Vancouver, and Lieut.-Col. MacLean, of the military institute of Vancouver.

Among others in the congregation were Mayor Anson, Mr. T. D. Pattullo, leader of the opposition in the British Columbia Legislature; Mr. D. B. Plunkett, M.P.; Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald, of the British Columbia Court of Appeal; Mr. Grant Hall, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway; Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway; Mr. Ian Mackenzie, M.P.P.; Mr. George Bourne, of New York; Mr. W. H. Kinman, president of the Victoria Liberal Association; Mr. A. D. Macfarlane, president of the Victoria Laurier Club; Alderman W. T. Birch, Mr. B. C. Nicholas, Mr. W. M. Ivel and Mr. E. W. McMullen.

The selected hymns were "Unto the Hills" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

PASTOR'S TRIBUTE

Referring to the presence of the Prime Minister of Canada in the city, it was most appropriate that a memorial service be held in Victoria, Dr. Wilson said. The character of the service should be in keeping with the character of the man to whom tribute was paid. The service must be simple and of few words. No needless words of eulogy were necessary in praising one so well known in Canada. When he followed the late Hon. W. S. Fielding, many there were who prophesied that he would not be equal to the task of filling the position of the man who had established a reputation for ability, integrity and administrative power. He had proved a real successor.

Touching on the human qualities of the late Finance Minister, the speaker said "No one was less ostentatious. The greater the honor and the heavier the task the more humble he seemed to become. Any one could approach him. Formalities were put aside when a delegation sought to see him. He was sympathetic to all. This was a great quality for a man in public life."

Referring to friendships in public life, "It must be extremely difficult to conserve and retain friends in public life," he said. "I recall the remark Mr. Robb made at one time to a man who was opposed to him in policy but with whom there existed a close intimacy in human friendship. If they ever came time, the late Minister had remarked, when a friend did not view his policies as he did and that friendship was threatened by his policies, rather than lose the friendship he would surrender his position in public life. I believed if the occasion had arisen Mr. Robb would have implemented that remark."

He spoke feelingly of the late Minister's sincerity of purpose, qualities which everyone admired. He had gained a monument to himself by his deeds and his passing was a challenge to those remaining in the conduct of the country's affairs and he hoped that they would not pass when public life would lose its appeal to the noblest and best.

WORLD AMITY APPEAL MADE BY MINISTER

Hon. J. L. Ralston Urges Canadians to Work for Establishment of International Peace Principles

CANADA OCCUPIES STRATEGIC PLACE

"Substitute Reason for Force in Settling Differences," He Says—Tribute to Late Mr. Robb Is Paid

A strong appeal to Canadians in the East and West to unite in a common desire and effort to establish in the world the principles of international peace, was made yesterday by Colonel the Hon. J. L. Ralston, Federal Minister of National Defence, in speaking to the Victoria Canadian Club in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel.

"We don't realize the strategic position which Canada occupies. Canada is a friend of Great Britain and the United States. We want to be friends of and to trade with both. Canada enjoys the confidence of the leaders and peoples of Great Britain and the United States, and is listened to with a great deal more attention than her position in the world, as far as wealth and population are concerned, would demand."

"We should capitalize our position, not selfishly, but to assist in the peaceful settlement of difficulties among nations. We have no axe to grind in the promotion of amity between the English-speaking nations of the world," the minister said, amid applause.

SILENT TRIBUTE

At the outset of the meeting, Mr. P. B. Fowler, president of the Canadian Club, expressed the great loss Canada had this week sustained in the death of Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Finance, whose death occurred at Toronto. "Mr. Robb was a great Canadian; and one who devoted twenty-one years of his life to Canada," Mr. Fowler said.

Members of the Canadian Club rose and stood in silent tribute to the memory of Mr. Robb.

After being introduced by President Fowler, Colonel Ralston said: "I appreciate the tribute you have sincerely paid to an honored colleague of mine who has gone home. In the passing of Mr. Robb, Canada has lost an outstanding man. I admired and loved him. His heart was as true as steel and as rich as gold. Among all his successes I think there was none greater than his success over old age. Canada is poorer by his death, but is richer through his contribution to the progress of the nation."

OUTLINES PEACE STEPS

Colonel Ralston reviewed the consistent approach in recent years by the nations of the world towards greater international amity, briefly dwelling on the significance of the Washington Conference, the Geneva protocol, the Rome Conference, the Treaty of Locarno and the Briand-Kellogg Pact.

"I don't think we have to worry too much because Canada asks a modest sum for defence forces," said the speaker, in alluding to the small force which this country maintains. He observed that a disarmament treaty between Guatemala and other Central American States, specified a reduction of standing forces to 5,200 men, Guatemala having 2,500,000 inhabitants. Canada had only 3,300 men permanently employed, of a population of 10,000,000 people.

Referring to the recent visit of Mr. J. Ramsay MacDonald, Premier of Great Britain to the United States, Colonel Ralston said: "It was a sincere and earnest act on the part of the head of a great nation to show the determination of himself and that nation to bring about what the whole world desires—international peace." Prolonged applause greeted this statement.

The speaker spoke of the strategic position Canada held, and said this country could capitalize its influence by "keeping up the quality of the representatives we send to the League of Nations and other international bodies striving to usher in permanent world peace. We have been most fortunate in our selection of men who have represented Canada in the League of Nations." Such men, he stated, supported by a Canada whose people were fully enlightened as to the issues under review, would exert great influence in world affairs.

The work already achieved in the promotion of friendship and good-will between Canada and the United States was outlined by Col. Ralston who spoke of the Rush-Bagot treaty regarding the Great Lakes, the arbitration settlement of 1919, and the establishment of the Joint Canadian-American Commission now functioning. Regarding the international commission, the speaker said that, although it was an economic body, its jurisdiction could be extended to make it a veritable "Little Hague."

"We should inform our people, and keep them informed as to what is being accomplished in bringing about the settlement of international disputes. The League of Nations Society is doing very valuable work in this respect."

"EDUCATE PEOPLE"

"The peoples of Europe talk of international relations at breakfast. We in Canada, secure with our boundaries of the Atlantic on the East, the Pacific on the West and a friendly people to the South, are unconscious of these matters. We must educate our people on international problems," he continued.

Dealing briefly with problems incident to the admission of immigrants of a high type, Colonel Ralston said: "Let us not set these immigrants off by themselves in this land. Let us, rather, make them feel at home here. We should teach them our traditions and ideals and, instead of treating them as immigrants, let us strive to make them Canadian citizens. If they find friendliness at our hands, they will write back to the places from which they came, and tell of the friendliness Canada has extended to them."

"The last decade has seen more of a confident, definite determination to substitute reason for force in the settlement of international difficulties than in any previous hundred years in the world's history," Colonel Ralston declared.

"That is something to be proud of. We are trying to destroy the will to war and substitute a desire to turn to other means than swords, bayonets and destroyers for the settlement of differences between nations," he asserted, amid applause.

Colonel Ralston considered that the Canadian nationality was a very important factor in the world today and believed it could be made useful, not only in developing the resources of the country, but also in familiarizing the world with the factor that have made that nationality possible, showing it the points of importance on the highway to peace and proclaiming Canada's own experience and convictions regarding the advantages of neighborliness and amity.

The speaker said he had just heard that Mr. William Phillips had resigned as United States Minister to Canada. "I personally regret that Mr. Phillips is leaving his post at Ottawa. No diplomat could have been a greater friend to Canada than Mr. Phillips, and no one has tried more to interpret the Canadian mind and viewpoint than he has to the United States."

In closing Colonel Ralston said: "I think Canadians in the East and West should unite in a common desire and effort to establish in the world the principles of international peace."

TWO SEEKING RE-ELECTION

Alderman John Harvey and School Trustee J. S. McMillan Announce Their Candidatures

MR. P. E. GEORGE ALSO CANDIDATE

Alderman John Harvey and School Trustee J. S. McMillan stated last night they would be candidates for re-election to the City Council and School Board respectively at the forthcoming election on December 12.

Alderman Harvey is the first of the five members of the City Council whose terms expire this year, to announce his candidature for reelection. He has served nine years on the aldermanic board, being elected the first time in 1919, when the late Mr. Robert Porter was mayor. He has served in the council during the administrations of former Mayors Robert Porter, William Marchant and J. Carl Penney, and the present incumbent of the mayor's chair, Mr. Herbert Anscombe.

The alderman is chairman of the board of trustees of the Royal Oak Burial Park, which post he has held for the past three years, and is also head of the 1929 city parks committee. During his service on the council he has held the chairmanship of such committees as the industrial, health, parks, light and market. For five years he was president of the Children's Aid Society. He is one of the city's representatives on the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee.

School Trustee J. S. McMillan is completing a two-year term on the City School Board, being elected to that body at the December election in 1927. Mr. McMillan is a member of the building and grounds committee of the board. He is widely known as secretary of the Island Arts and Crafts Society, an office which he has occupied for many years.

Another candidate for the school board is Mr. P. E. George, who has previously sought election for school trustee. Mr. George has been engaged in business in Victoria for eighteen years, and has taken a keen interest in the work of parent-teacher associations and schools for many years.

Deputy May Retire Soon From Position

It is reported that Mr. G. R. Naden may retire from the position of Deputy Minister of Lands in the Government service, the place to be taken by Mr. Harry Cathart, who is in charge of the lands end of the service. In the regular order of things Mr. Naden would retire in May next, under the age limit. In order to facilitate the readjustment of the work of the department, it is possible that an arrangement may be made for his retiring earlier.

McBride Club Hears Captain H. W. R. Moore

Members of the McBride Club met in the Sons of England Hall last evening listened to an interesting and instructive address by Captain H. W. R. Moore, a past president of the club. Captain Moore expressed his pleasure on being present to address the gathering, and traced the history of the club from its inception in 1890, and told of its original objectives. It had been a strong force in the community at one time. He stressed the advisability of having frank and free discussions rule all meetings of the members, as open discussions were the life blood of an organization such as the McBride Club was. Members of the club and certain obligations to maintain, they should work with, and for, the club, and he hoped it would soon be back in the strong position it once occupied in local affairs. He gave the members some wholesome advice on future conduct and reminded them that the verdict of the majority should be honored with the backing of the entire membership at all times. President George Turner was in the chair.

SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS SESSION

Report of Finance Committee Adopted—Letter From Education Department Discussed

FOREIGN READERS NOT TO BE STOCKED

Last night the City Board of School Trustees met in the City Hall and considered the report of the finance committee. The total expenditures, up to the present date, appeared as $438,312.33. The report of the finance committee was adopted unanimously.

DEPARTMENT'S LETTER

"This circular letter is issued to call the attention of school boards, teachers and inspectors to certain important changes respecting supplementary readers, which have been made by and under an amendment to the Public Schools Act, passed at the last session of the Legislature. This amendment provides that supplementary readers must be authorized by the Council of Public Instruction. Formerly the individual teachers chose the supplementary readers, and no restrictions regarding the choice of the books were imposed upon them, so that if a teacher thought fit, every supplementary reader in his school or class might be of foreign origin. Since the beginning of the present term only such supplementary readers as are duly authorized by the Council of Public Instruction may be used in the schools in the province."

"Under that amendment a list of authorized supplementary readers was made, which has supplanted the list of books formerly recommended but not authorized. A list of such authorized books was duly forwarded to the school teachers of the province, and one is enclosed herewith in the hope that the school boards and the inspectors will co-operate with the teachers and see that only supplementary readers that are authorized are being used."

"The department would not advise any school board to stock supplementary readers of foreign origin, or to renew its stock of such readers, even though they be on the authorized list for the time being, as such books will be discarded as soon as the department finds it advisable, practicable, and beneficial to do so."

The letter was tabled by the members of the board, and will be given the fullest consideration in the near future.

Provincial Court

Two minors were convicted in the Provincial Police Court yesterday and each fined $10 for hunting without being under the supervision of an adult. One was further charged with killing a turkey, the property of Mr. Massey, and on pleading guilty was fined $25 and the price of the bird, another $8.

Shower at Sidney

Mrs. Skinner entertained at a delightful miscellaneous shower at her home on Friday evening, in honor of Miss Kathleen Watts, whose marriage to Mr. C. Pearson took place on Monday evening. The reception rooms had been prettily arranged with bouquets of pink chrysanthemums, yellow daisies and sprays of autumn foliage. The time passed very pleasantly at cards, games and dancing, and an interesting "house furnishing" contest was held, which resulted in the first prize being presented to Mrs. F. Larson, while the consolation prize went to Henry Rankin. A pleasing interlude occurred when Miss Watts was sent to answer the door, where she found a bagging mail bag and a large box upon examining their contents, she found a number of lovely and useful gifts, for which she thanked her many friends in just a few appropriate words. A buffet supper was served in the dining room.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. F. King, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Norbury, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Millo Covert, Mr. N. E. FOX SHOW TO BE HELD HERE SOON

Matter Will Be Formally Decided at Early Date — Prominent Fur Farmers Promise Support

Although the subject has not yet reached the formal consideration of the local Silver Fox Breeders' Association, there is strong probability that a really good fur show will be staged in Victoria next month.

Dr. J. J. Gillies, M.P.P., who has a fox farm at Merritt; Captain Ian D. Mackenzie, who has a fur farm at Maple Bay, and fur farmers from outside points, were in Victoria yesterday and fully discussed the question of co-operation among fox breeders.

They thought a show would be a most beneficial way of assisting the fox farmers and it is understood a move in this direction will be undertaken at once.

Support was promised by Rev. Montague W. J. Bruce, head of one of the largest local farms.

Dr. Gillies mentioned that his shipment of silver foxes overseas last year arrived safely and without a single casualty.

ROB POST OFFICE

Mr. David Logan, postmaster and storekeeper at Clo-ose, West Coast, was robbed of a sum between $70 and $90 about 9:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, according to word received here by provincial police.

It is thought that constables will proceed to Clo-ose from Port Alberni by boat or overland by way of Bamfield.

New Nanaimo Stores Narrowly Escape Burning

NANAIMO, Nov. 13.—At 1:30 o'clock this morning the local fire department was called out to a fire at the rear of the new Metropolitan Stores, where they found a heap of newly unpacked cardboard and wooden boxes blazing. A few minutes with the hose playing on the flames sufficed to prevent damage. The alarm was turned in by Mr. E. Edmunds.

The Metropolitan Stores, which are situated at the corner of Commercial and Bastion Streets, will open for the first time in Nanaimo Friday morning.

Armistice Day Celebrated at Island Points

NANAIMO, Nov. 13.—Armistice Day was fully observed in Nanaimo. The annual Armistice banquet, held in the Hotel Malaspina, drew a capacity crowd and proved an outstanding success. A delightful musical programme was given, with Mrs. R. T. Wilson as accompanist, and eloquent speeches by the proposers and those who replied to an interesting list of toasts, kept the guests seated until 10 o'clock, after which the tables were cleared and an informal dance, largely attended, brought the event to a delightful conclusion.

Following the banquet the Armistice ball was held in the Odd Fellows' Hall and proved to be an outstanding success. Around 350 dancers enjoyed themselves to the music supplied by the Collegian Orchestra.

On Sunday the returned men met at the Canadian Legion Hall, from where they proceeded to the Nanaimo Cemetery, where wreaths were placed on the graves of fifty-three departed soldiers. In the afternoon the annual memorial service was held at the cenotaph on Dallas Square, the services being well attended, music for the occasion being furnished by the Nanaimo Silver Cornet Band. At the close of the service wreaths were placed on the cenotaph by various service organisations of the city.

CUMBERLAND, Nov. 13.—There was a very large attendance at the memorial service held at the Memorial Hall on Sunday when Rev. E. O. Robathan and Rev. J. R. Hewitt conducted a very impressive service. Many large and beautiful wreaths were placed at the Memorial Arch, the City Council and all the fraternal societies in town being represented at the service and laying wreaths at the arch. In the evening members of the Cumberland Branch of the Canadian Legion paraded to Holy Trinity Anglican Church for divine service, Rev. E. O. Robathan preaching an eloquent sermon.

PARKSVILLE, Nov. 13.—The memorial service held in Parksville was very well attended. Some sixty veterans paraded under the command of E. J. Feary. The service was conducted by the Legion chaplain, Rev. E. B. Arrol and the vicar, Rev. C. H. Popham. Many lovely wreaths were placed on the cenotaph.

MEN'S CLUB HOLDS ITS FIRST MEETING

Interesting Travelogue on Yellowstone Park Given by Mr. Mann

DUNCAN, Nov. 13.—The newly organized Men's Club of the United Church held its first meeting in the church parlors on Tuesday evening. In the absence of the president, Mr. W. Kelly, through illness, Mr. A. M. Dixon presided. An interesting travelogue on Yellowstone Park was given by Mr. A. R. Mann. Having visited there during a recent motor trip to the East, Mr. Mann had many personal experiences to relate. Mr. J. R. Underwood, Sr., gave some reminiscences

Gives Lecture on League of Nations At Duncan School

DUNCAN, Nov. 13.—An interesting illustrated lecture was given by Mr. A. S. Averill, Victoria, in Queen Margaret's and Duncan High School. The foolishness, horror and expense of war was shown, as were pictures of ruins and inventions. The products of other countries and exports of our own land, taught the industrial losses caused by war. Mr. Averill spoke of the great need of peace and explained the purpose of the League of Nations, showing pictures of historic meetings of the League. The High School lantern was kindly loaned for the afternoon.

Young People Hold Meeting at Duncan

DUNCAN, Nov. 13.—The attendance owing to the holiday, was not as large as usual at the weekly meeting of the Young People's League, held in the United Church parlors on Monday night. A special Armistice programme had been arranged by Miss Gwen Owen. An appropriate Scripture lesson was read by Mr. Wallace Flett; Miss G. Owens sang Kipling's "Recessional," and Miss N. McEwan read "In Flanders Fields." A very able address was given by Mr. A. M. Dixon, his subject being "War and World Brotherhood." The secretary was instructed to write a letter of sympathy to Mr. Linton Owens, a member, who is ill in the Jubilee Hospital, Victoria.

MILL CLOSING DOWN

The result of the Poppy Day tag during Armistice week-end was very good, the sum of nearly one hundred dollars being collected.

SEA MAID TELLS STRANGE STORY

Pretty Australian Girl Is Found Unconscious on French Shore Wrapped in Sea Weed

PARIS, Nov. 12.—"Where am I?" A handsome woman mumbled these words as she gazed blankly up at the little group of French fishermen standing around her. She was Gloria McAllister, an Australian girl, and the central figure in one of the queerest tales of the sea ever told. She had been found by a fisherman lying unconscious on the beach at Montallivet, near Bordeaux, clad in the filiciest garments, with seaweed draped about her.

For more than thirty-two hours Gloria McAllister, according to the account which she herself gave to the startled interpreter who was called to interview her recently had braved the seas of the Bay of Biscay, swimming and drifting with the Atlantic currents, until at last she gained the land.

TELL OVERBOARD

"I am twenty years old," Miss McAllister began her story, "being born in Port Adam, Australia. On Saturday I left Newcastle as a stewardess on board the steamer Eagle, bound for Shanghai."

"On Sunday night there was a gale on board, and feeling unwell I walked to the rail to take some air. Somehow or other I managed to fall overboard without being noticed."

"The shock cleared my head at once. I am a good swimmer, and I floundered about for some time, until by a rare piece of luck I found a piece of wreckage floating about that seemed to be a ship's cabin door."

"All day Monday I clung to this door, although I was on the verge of exhaustion. At nightfall I noticed a light. You have no idea how this raised my hopes. I knew it was a lighthouse and not a ship because of the way it blinked on and off."

"I threw off my clothes except one undergarment, and, abandoning the door that saved my life, I swam towards the light. I must have gone thirty miles, for I swam all night long but the currents gradually carried me southward. Towards the end I must have lost consciousness, for I have no recollection of being picked up on the beach."

The British Consul at Bordeaux has arranged for Miss McAllister to be sent back to Newcastle, and meanwhile he and the French police are inquiring into her strange story, which is baffling the nautical experts at Bordeaux.

Montreal to Have New Postoffice Costing Millions

The Post Office Department, it was learned, is placing in its estimates for next year an appropriation of a million and a half dollars for a central postal terminal in Montreal. It will cost more than $1,500,000, but the initial appropriation will carry the work quite far.

The location is to be in the block bounded by St. James, St. Antoine, Windsor and Cathedral Streets. It will make a revolutionary change in present methods through the centralization of all the services. The present postoffice will be used only for administrative purposes. All the sorting, delivery and outward dispatch of mail will be from the central office. Mechanical equipments will be

'FAST COMPANY' ON CAPITOL SCREEN

Swift Moving Fun Romance at Local House Brings Laurels to Jack Oakie

"Fast Company," Paramount's version of a famous Ring Lardner story, comes to the Capitol Theatre today as the main feature for the balance of the week.

This is a fast-moving comedy romance containing all the brilliant humor originally injected into the story (one of the "You Know Me, Al" series) by the author, and all the additional glamor which the camera alone can contribute to a play of this thrilling type.

Jack Oakie, young comedian who has risen to movie prominence in little more than a year, plays the blundering, bawling small-town boy who makes good in "Fast Company." He is the hero of the play.

Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, another comedian whose success in films is commensurate with Oakie's, plays the part of Oakie's personal manager. Evelyn Brent and Gwen Lee, as a pair of teamed actresses provide the feminine side of the love-interest.

The original Lardner story was called "Hurry Kane." A Broadway stage play, based on the story, called "Elmer the Great" brought unstinted praise to Lardner and to Walter Huston, who is now acting for Paramount with great success. "Fast Company" is the film version based on the original story and the play.

COLISEUM The much-talked-of THEATRE about war film, "Verdun," is being shown at the Coliseum Theatre, "Verdun" was filmed almost entirely in the forts and on the battlefields of Verdun, France, and is an authentic reproduction of the famous battle of the great World War. The picture was made by a British company, with the assistance of the French War Office, and stands out as a monument to its director, Leon Poirier.

DOMINION The audiences at the Dominion Theatre yesterday were loud in their approval of the motion picture debut of Moran and Mack in the two Black Crows, in Paramount's all-talking, "Why Bring That Up?"

These two record and radio stars not only presented bits from their former successes, but added plenty of new material. "Why Bring That Up?" has an engrossing plot, the story was written by Octavius Roy Cohen, famous author of "Dark Town Doings," and is loosely woven about the actual lives of Moran and Mack, the two Black Crows.

PLAYHOUSE All the antics on the stage, the Tiffany-Stahl act went to Sally O'Neill during the taking of "Broadway Fever," her latest starring vehicle, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. She had to tumble down stairs three different times and had acquired a large collection of black and blue spots by the time the scenes were safely recorded on the camera.

'Blockade' Is Offering On Columbia Screen

With a theme of universal interest—based upon the liquor problem—portrayed by a cast of seasoned artists in which Anna Q. Nilsson holds first rank, and brought to the screen with mastery directorial ability, "Blockade," now is showing at the Columbia Theatre.

It proved to be a powerful and vivid depiction of the ceaseless warfare that is carried on along the east coast of the United States between organized runners and the law enforcement officials of the Government.

From every point of view "Blockade," an FBO special, is an ideal vehicle for the return of Anna Q. Nilsson to the screen. In a role of a woman of mystery who, in command of her own fast cruising yacht, is the Nemesis of rum runners off the Florida Keys, Miss Nilsson gives a compelling and artistic performance quite in keeping with her stellar rank in filmdom.

HOW PHEASANTS MAY BE RAISED

Regulations Regarding Birds Reared for Table Under Licence System

The regulations covering the disposal of pheasants which have been raised by farmers and others who wish to engage in this line of business, have been approved by the Attorney-General, following the adoption of them by the game authorities of the province under Mr. A. Bryan Williams, Game Commissioner.

It will now be possible for those who wish to enjoy on the dinner table these birds to do so without any violation of the Game Act. The rules will require that the bird to be used for food must be tagged with a number corresponding with one reported to the Game Commissioner as having been placed by one of the licensed raisers of the birds. In this way there will be no opportunity for violating the rule laid down that the ordinary wild pheasant cannot be sold.

Under the regulations, anyone wishing to enter into the business of raising pheasants for sale may obtain a licence from the Game Commissioner on complying with the rules laid down. Tags will be issued which are to be affixed to the right leg of every bird which is to be offered for sale. Every bird affected over four months old must bear such a tag.

These tags are so constructed that they cannot be taken off and cannot be used again. They must, moreover, remain on the bird until it is consumed. It will even adorn the leg when it reaches the table after cooking. It will be an illegal act on the part of anyone to have any pheasant without such a band on the leg, except such as are permitted to hunters under the Game Act.

The raiser of the birds must send in a list of the tags used, and in this way there will be no trouble in tracing the origin of the bird in case of need, or in checking up on the transaction.

It is anticipated that there will be a number of people who go in for breeding of pheasants in a commercial way under the new regulations. Several have started and have taken out licences. It is likely that more will enter the line in another year. The mode adopted is to keep the birds enclosed, following their hatching, so that they may not escape. Large wire enclosures, which afford the birds plenty of exercise, are provided, and they are fed similarly to domesticated birds of any other variety.

The plan affords persons who are not hunters an opportunity to have the pleasure of eating pheasants.

Market Losses Thought to Be Suicide Cause

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Nov. 13.—Stock market losses said to have aggregated a million dollars were believed responsible for the suicide of Mr. Robert M. Searle, president of the Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation, at his home here today.

He was found on a bathroom floor at his home by Herman Russell, vice-president of the company. A gas jet was open and asphyxiation was given as the cause of death.

This sauce deserves its fame

by Mary Blake

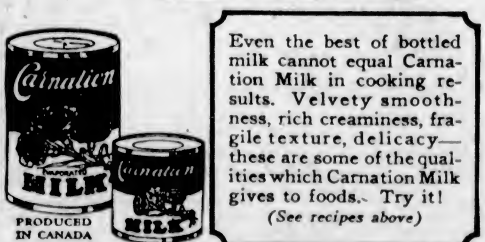

I have given my recipe for white sauce to many women. They always tell me, "I don't feel that I am boasting unduly when I praise it to you. I claim no credit myself for its deliciousness. I know quite well that it is smooth, rich creaminess is due largely to the milk used."

Unless the milk used in a white sauce is pure and sweet and rich in cream, you'll get an indifferent result. But if you have creamy whole milk of the highest quality, pure and sweet, you can count on a delicious sauce. And that is exactly what you have in Carnation Milk. It is simply the best of whole milk from selected herds, with nothing added and nothing taken out except part of the water.

Being evaporated to double richness, it makes the creamiest of sauces, without the extravagant use of butter. Being "homogenized"—which means that the double cream content is broken up into minute particles—it gives a wonderfully fine, smooth texture. And this same rich creaminess and velvety-smooth texture are found in every dish in which Carnation Milk is used.

Because of its uniformity, dependability, convenience and real economy, you will prefer it for all cooking. Send for free Carnation Cook Book. Address: Carnation Milk Products Co., Ltd., 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Rhoda, A Red-Headed Girl

by Harry Kitchell Webster

CHAPTER X

"What do you want?" Claire asked sharply when Rhoda appeared. But almost in the same breath she tried to change her tactics, adding with an uneasy laugh: "Heavens, I didn't expect you to find my paper as quick as that!"

"Yes," Rhoda said, making her voice sound as amiable as she could. "I must seem sudden."

At that Claire stepped back unwillingly from the doorway, and Rhoda followed her into the rather large room that seemed to be all there was to the apartment, except for an alcove that she couldn't see into. That was where Max was most likely. Rhoda shut the door behind her.

"Well?" Claire asked. "I've come," said Rhoda. "To get my trunk?" "Your trunk? What makes you think I've got your trunk?" Claire tried to laugh, but it only showed how frightened she was.

Rhoda hesitated. If Max was in the alcove, she wished he'd come out. It was hard to know where to begin, unless she knew whether he was there or not.

Her hesitation seemed to anger Claire, or to reassure her, she could not be sure which. "Look here," Claire went on truculently, "I don't even know what you're talking about. Are you trying to tell me you've lost a trunk and you think I've got it?"

"I'm going to tell you what I think," Rhoda said, "and I'm going to tell you some of the things I know."

Not before last, at the Alhambra, when Max Lewis told you that I was the girl all right, because my first name was Rhoda, you told him to find out where I lived."

"I told you that myself this noon," Claire broke in. "What's that got to do with it?"

"And you told him," Rhoda went on, "not to waste time about it, because I might see Mr. Forster's advertisement any day and answer it. Rhoda could see that this bit of information startled Claire, and she went on a little more confidently: "He did find out where I lived by going home that night with Babe, and he found out that one studio was empty all day, because she told him we both worked and the other girls were away. He tried to find out whether my name wasn't Rhoda McFarland, but she didn't tell him. Yesterday afternoon the studio was broken into. The burglar didn't find any papers, because he didn't know where to look. But he did find three hundred dollars of mine, and he took that."

Rhoda's guess had been right. Claire didn't know about the three hundred dollars.

"But today," Rhoda went on, "after I told you that my father's papers were in the trunk and sealed up, and after you'd gone out and telephoned—"

"You think Max went and got the trunk, do you, and that he brought it here?"

"Yes," Rhoda said. "And I think he's in that alcove with it now."

The woman gave a vicious laugh. "All right," she said, "go and see for yourself. If you can find Max or the trunk, you're welcome to both of them. Go and look, and when you get out, I've been insulted about long enough."

This wasn't the way Rhoda had expected the scene to work out. She was assailed by a sudden thought that the trunk might not be in the alcove after all, nor Max either. Yet she couldn't go away without looking. This might be nothing but a magnificent bluff by Claire.

"Thank you," she said, "I'll go and look." But it took all the resolution she had to set her legs in motion down the room.

The alcove contained a bed, too low for the trunk to be under, a couple of chairs and a dressing-table, but no trunk, no litter of papers, and no Max.

"Go as far as you like," said Claire, who had followed her. "Perhaps they are hidden in my closet or in the bathroom."

Rhoda was on the point of giving it up. She'd made a bad guess, that was all, not as to the woman's responsibility for the theft of her trunk, but as to the way she worked it. Claire's self-confidence, her sense of being top dog seemed, now, to be perfectly real.

But the bathroom door stood ajar and Rhoda's glance had gone that way as Claire finished speaking. It looked like a rather large room for its purpose. More than just a bathroom, she'd taken a look, anyhow, and made sure. She was in the act of going in, but not yet clear of the door, and Claire was at her elbow, when the sharp jingle of a bell somewhere in the apartment startled them both. That is to say, it startled Rhoda; it paralyzed Claire. Her hard blue eyes seemed to bulge right out of her head. But that lasted only an instant. With a convulsive movement, Claire gave Rhoda a push that sent her staggering clear across the tiled floor to the farther wall, whipped the key out of the inner face of the door, slammed the door and locked her in. The bell gave a second peep just as the bolt clicked home.

Just as instinctively as she had recovered her balance and saved herself a fall, Rhoda darted across the room and tugged, ineffectually, of course, at the locked door. But she began thinking in time to suppress the impulse to beat upon the door and demand vociferously that she should be let out. Unless she kept quiet, she couldn't hear what was going on. By putting her ear to the door she could hear very well indeed.

She heard Claire open the door—the door she had come in by, Rhoda didn't doubt; there was a betraying creak to one of its hinges—but there was no sound of the heavy footsteps on the stairs that would have heralded the lugging in of her trunk. Claire must have thought it was the trunk coming, though, or she wouldn't have looked her up in the bathroom. The silence, which had lasted half a dozen seconds, perhaps, was again broken by the ring of the bell, persistent this time and prolonged. It wasn't the door bell at all; it was the telephone.

Rhoda heard the door slam shut and the rush of Claire's feet across the floor. It was odd that in her own flat she should have mistaken the bell. She'd been expecting the door bell, that was why.

The instrument was just around the corner of the alcove, near enough so that Rhoda could still hear the throb of the bell after Claire cut it off. Either he was speaking very low or Claire had the receiver glued tight to her ear.

Claire said, "Hello!" and then, "Yes. Who is this? What is it you want?"

An unfamiliar voice, evidently asking if this was Miss Claire Cleveland.

The stranger must have said his name pretty concisely, for Rhoda said a short pause Claire cried out in a tone of the liveliest astonishment: "What's that? What are you talking about? Who are you, anyway?" And again, after listening a little longer, "Say, are you trying to be funny?"

the curb while he waited for her answer. A building on the corner cut off any possible view from Claire's windows.

"I think," Rhoda said, "that the woman I want to see is coming out in a few minutes, and I want to know where she goes."

"Well," he said, "that's easy." Claire came down almost at once, hailed a taxi, drove to the boulevard and turned south, down town. In another minute Rhoda, in her own taxi, was following. It was almost too easy to be exciting. Down the boulevard to the parkway, and then, branching to the right down the park's western boundary, she saw the other taxi stop and Claire got out at the Worcester Hotel.

"All right," Rhoda said to the chauffeur of her taxi, "You can stop here, too. And this time you needn't wait."

Election Scandal Is Finished With Light Sentences

EDMONTON, Nov. 13.—Fines were written to the Athabasca election scandals of 1925 when six persons were arraigned in the Supreme Criminal Court on Tuesday, pleaded guilty to charges and were released under suspended sentence by Mr. Justice Ford.

Mrs. Emma Bowtell faced three counts of forgery, and her husband was charged with counselling and procuring his wife to commit these acts. Anton Lungen, Martin Grazdal, Peter Peterson and Ernest Vasey were charged with attempting by false pretences to defraud the Auditor-General's Department of Canada by entering false polling station accounts. All six accused were from Frog Lake, in the Athabasca constituency.

WHEAT YIELD ONLY HALF THAT OF 1928

OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—The total yield of Spring wheat in Canada for the present year is estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at 273,756,000 bushels as compared with last year's crop of 546,672,000 bushels. The yield of Fall wheat is given as 20,143,000 bushels this year, making the total estimated yield of 293,899,000 bushels as compared with 566,728,000 bushels last year.

How to Keep Fit at "Fifty"

No Need Now to Grow Old Simply Through Passing Years. How to Make a Test That Tells

Men and women in this modern age are just as old as their Nerve Force—no older—no younger. You may be old at thirty, or young at fifty or sixty.

Old age and the disease that old age invites stalks in the path of every person past forty, who permits Nerve Force to run low. They are ready victims of Paralysis, Apoplexy, Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Trouble, Sciatica and many other dangerous ailments.

Youthful vigor, energy, ambition and power stay with people at any age who keep their Nerve Force running strong.

In what class are you? Check-up! Then make this simple, easy test: Every leading druggist in this city now offers, under binding guarantee, a new scientific preparation called Erbac (double strength). Its action is simply on the nerve cells. Its purpose is to build up youthful age-resisting nerve force and power. It's not a mere nerve stimulant that lashes tired nerves to action, nor a sedative to lull overwrought nerves to temporary rest. It brings no sixty-minute change. You must use Erbac daily for twenty days to expect results. But if you want nerves of steel, the power of youth, and endurance to pay at the rate of ten cents a day for twenty days, and have the courage to make the test, your own druggist will supply you with a twenty days' test of Erbac (double strength) on this guarantee: Use it for twenty days, and then if you do not feel at least ten years younger, and if your ability and endurance have not increased at least 100 per cent, your money will be refunded.

Erbac (double strength) is especially designed for folks past forty. If you have reached that age, and want results, make this test without delay.

NOTICE TO READER—Above money-back guarantee is absolutely genuine and legal. Manufacturers are responsible. (Adv.)

"it is natural for me...a skin specialist...to be an advocate of yeast"...

At the famous Hospital of St. Louis, in Paris, is Dr. Paul Gastou. A brilliant dermatologist, honored by medical societies throughout the world. What he says is a reflection of the highest opinion in his field.

The unhealthy complexion, like poor digestion, bad breath, "nerves," is usually a symptom of faulty elimination—of food wastes held too long.

Fresh yeast gently stimulates sluggish intestines, softens the clogging wastes, purifies. Your constipation gradually gives way. Healthy digestion is restored. Pimples and boils disappear.

Now the health value of Fleischmann's Yeast has been enormously increased. The new "irradiated" Fleischmann's Yeast brings you the "sunshine" vitamin D. Three cakes, our laboratory estimate, are equivalent to the ultra-violet effect of a day in the summer sun! Most people, especially of growing age (under 25) need the "sunshine" vitamin. With it bones and teeth grow straight and strong—your body becomes harder, tougher.

Start today on this easy way to vigorous, clear-skinned health!

"Long hours in a plane—a sluggish system—complexion troubles set in"

"I am training for an endurance flight," writes Edna Campbell Ferguson, only woman member of The Sunrise Flying Club of Oceanside, Long Island. "The long hours in a plane made my system sluggish, and this brought on complexion troubles... The wife of a doctor friend suggested Fleischmann's Yeast. It corrected my sluggishness, cleared my skin and renewed my energy."

OF PARIS

Well-known dermatologist; Chief of the General Laboratory of the Hospitals of the Right Bank of the Seine; former Chief of the Clinic of the Faculty of Medicine of Paris. He has performed important medical missions for his government. He says:

"That great skin specialist, Brocq, demonstrated the value of yeast in skin troubles. So it is natural for me to be an advocate of yeast. Yeast cleanses the intestines, checks the poisons. It is especially rich in ergosterol, which when irradiated becomes the antirachitic vitamin D."

Fleischmann's Yeast is made in Canada by a Canadian.

(At Left) Miss Ferguson as she touched the ground after parachute jump

J. WILKIE of Regina, Sask., writes: "I suffered three months and took a forced vacation because of a bad case of boils. I tried all cures for them without success. Later I was advised by my doctor to eat yeast and inside a month I was absolutely clear of the boils. I am now in the best of health."

"I was in a badly rundown condition and troubled with boils," writes Alice M. Allen of Calgary, Alta. "Since I have eaten Fleischmann's Yeast my skin has regained its former freshness, and I never need medicine."

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

THE ROMANCE OF WHEAT

The hard wheat flours are principally used in bread making, except the durum, which are used in the manufacturing of semolina flour, which goes into macaroni, spaghetti, noodles and shells, etc. It is estimated that nearly twenty million bushels of this flour a year are used in the United States and Canada in the production of macaroni. The Kubanka or durum wheat was brought to this continent by Mark Carleton, working for the Department of Agriculture, in an effort to find a wheat which would withstand the rust. Carleton's military exploration into the windswept, lonely regions of Russia is a romance in itself which is very well related in a remarkable book entitled, "The Hunger Fighters," by Dr. Krut.

In 1928 the Canadian crop was over 405,938,000 bushels. The United States crop for the same period was 669,365,000 bushels. At the present time it is said that wheat furnishes us with one-third of our total food, but our per capita consumption is slightly declining.

Europe uses more wheat than America per person, and it has been estimated that one-half of the average European meals come from wheat. The reason for the per capita decline in the consumption of wheat is probably because our work has changed from the hard, strenuous physical labor, calling for a large amount of fuel foods, to the white collar jobs in which overeating of the highly starchy foods is apt to lead to digestive disturbances. The public has also been educated to use more freely of the fruits and vegetables, and because of better clothing and better houses, the warmth-giving foods are not as necessary as they once were. The increased earning capacity has also given people a chance to buy higher priced food, resulting in a decrease per person in the wheat consumption as high as 20 per cent in twenty years.

In analyzing the flour, it is found that the amount of mineral matter and protein is somewhat higher in the whole-wheat flour than in white flour. There are some people, however, who find that whole-wheat flour is more difficult to digest. What is commonly sold in many stores as whole-wheat flour is not really whole-wheat but a mixture of 60 to 40 of the dark and white flours. Whenever white flour is used it should be in addition to non-starchy vegetables, as spinach, to provide roughage.

To obtain the pure whole-wheat, it is usually necessary to go to a health food store and ask for the entire wheat flour. Many people ask for the white flour because they associate the whiteness with purity and cleanliness. The millers have encouraged this belief, as the removal of the bran and heart from the wheat helps in storage because it prevents invasion by worms.

The fact that for thousands of years the flour which was sifted looked dirty has taught the population that it was a good idea to buy flour that is white so that one can tell at a glance whether it is clean or not. Within the last few years this belief has changed, however, and it is estimated that most bakers manufacture an equal amount of whole-wheat bread or perhaps more loaves than made from white flour.

A farmer was losing his patience and temper trying to drive two mules into a field, and was using strong language when the local parson came by and said: "Don't speak like that to dumb animals."

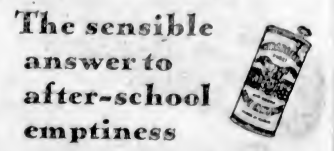

Farmer—You are just the man I want to see.
Parson—And why?
Farmer—Tell me, how did Noah get these into the Ark?

PRINCESS VICTORIA OF PRUSSIA PASSES AWAY IN POVERTY

BONN, Prussia, Nov. 13.—Frau Alexandra Subkoff, sixty-three, who was Princess Victoria of Prussia, sister of the former Kaiser and granddaughter of the British queen, died today at St. Francis Hospital here, ending one of the strangest romances written into the records of European royalty.

Death came while she slept, at 7:30 a.m., and followed a brief illness which began last week shortly after her husband, Alexander Subkoff, Russian adventurer, who was thirty-four years her junior, was served with divorce papers on her behalf.

VICTORIA CUBS TO BECOME ROAD CLUB

National Hockey League Season Will Swing Into Action in East Tonight

ORPHANED LOCAL TEAM TO BE KEPT INTACT BY LEAGUE

Games Scheduled to Be Played Here Are Distributed Between Vancouver and Seattle—Nine Games to Be Played in Each Town, Directors Decide

Squad to Open Season At Vancouver Monday

Victoria Team Will Keep Identity Throughout Winter—General Opinion Is That Players and Franchise Will Be Taken Over by Tacoma Interests

SEATTLE, Nov. 13.—The Victoria Cubs, orphaned by the burning of their home arena last Sunday, will go through the season as a "road club." This was the decision reached at a meeting here today by the officers and directors of the Pacific Coast Hockey League. Victoria's eighteen scheduled home games will be divided between Vancouver and Seattle. Each of those cities will take over the six games in which its own territory was to have played the Cubs at Victoria. The other six games involved, those in which the Portland Buckaroos were scheduled to visit Victoria, will be split up between Vancouver and Seattle. Thus the Cubs and the Buckaroos will meet three times here and three times in Vancouver.

As a result of the solution reached today, the Seattle Eskimos will open the season with the Cubs next Tuesday night at the local arena, instead of at Victoria as the schedule called for.

The Vancouver Lions will be here as per schedule on the following Friday evening.

The readjustment of the league programme gives Seattle twenty-seven games instead of the eighteen originally planned. All contents in which the Eskimos are the home club will be played on Friday nights, as they appeared on the original schedule. The engagements in which the Cubs appear as home club, whether against the Eskimos or against the Buckaroos, will be held on Tuesday.

Season ticket reservations are held only on the Friday night games.

TEAM TO KEEP IDENTITY
No intimation was vouchsafed by those who attended today's meeting as to what was to become of the Cubs at the end of the 1929-30 playing season. The fact that the team is to retain its identity may be taken, however, as evidence of intention to have a four-club league again.

That players and franchise will be taken over by Tacoma interests, appears to be the general opinion in hockey circles. Last Spring Tacoma evinced a considerable degree of interest in the possibility of entering the league, negotiations being interrupted by the death of Pete Muldoon, manager of the Seattle club, who was helping the Tacomas to figure things out.

Present at today's meeting were Frank Patrick, Vancouver manager and league president; Stanley Patrick, president of the Victoria club; Bobby Rowe, Portland owner-manager; and President Hugh Caldwell, Vice-President Nate Duxman and Manager Lloyd Turner, of Seattle.

While the moguls were in session, the Eskimos were going through their regular two-day training camp in preparation for Tuesday's opening game. The roster of players was completed this evening when Bill Townsend, defence man secured from Tulsa, reported for action.

Big Things Expected From Detroit Cougars

Jack Adams Looking Forward to Great Season in N.H.L.—Three New Players on Club's Roster—Hay Back With Team

DETROIT, Nov. 13.—"Smiling Jack" Adams, manager of the Cougars, Detroit's National Hockey League club, has added only three new players to his team this year, but he is freely predicting a world of improvement in the club that dropped out of the play-offs in the first round last season.

A great deal of Adams' optimism centres around the Detroit minor leaguers, the Olympics, from which "Smiling Jack" drew two of his new players.

"Adams and Frank Foyston, the latter manager of the Olympics, both have declared the Olympic club is carrying the best young material ever assembled for a minor league outfit.

Adams eventually expects to use the cream of this material in the Cougar line-up.

STRONG DEFENCE
Harvey Rockburn, sturdy defence man, and Eddie Goodfellow, centre, are the Olympic players who came to the Cougars this season. Rockburn earned the reputation of a hard-checking, fast-skating defence man last year, and Goodfellow was responsible for much of the Olympics' scoring punch. Harold Hicks, defence man, from the Montreal Maroons, and "Rusty" Hughes, with Buffalo last year, will also be on the Cougar line-up.

Butler Heads Hockey
TORONTO, Nov. 13.—Richard Butler, right wing player of the Port Arthur Allan Cup hockey team, today signed with Pittsburgh, of the National Hockey League, and will leave for the Smokey City tomorrow. He is the sixth member of last year's team to leave town. Only one of the regular line-up remains along with Friday and L'Heureux, spares.

Canadiens to Take On Ottawa; Rangers To Battle Maroons

Eight Teams to Show Wares in Opening Fixtures—New Defence Rules Are Expected to Speed Up Game

Professional major league hockey makes its season's bow tonight clothed in a revamped set of rules which have been designed to speed up the game, a game that already has been termed "the world's fastest sport." The rules which have been inserted into the code will also tend to increase scoring, it is claimed. In brief, the new rules provide for three forward pass areas instead of only two, while an anti-defence rule has been formulated, which will be strictly enforced.

Many of the teams have also thrown out the old and rung in the new changes in management and rosters having occurred in many of the clubs during the off season. The Boston Bruins, world's champions and Stanley Cup holders, still have Art Ross as manager, while their line-up-up remains intact from last year.

Lester Patrick is still at the helm. The Toronto Maple Leafs, last season's sensation, have lost only one man from their 1929-30 line-up. Connie Smythe is still manager. The New York Americans have acquired a new manager in the person of Lionel Conacher, who will also continue taking his place on the defence.

No other new playing managers will be seen in action this season. Dunc Munro, who missed most of last season owing to illness, has returned to the Maroons, and will play on defence as well as managing the team in the place of Eddie Gerard, who has retired.

A new manager will also be seen at Ottawa, where Neway Lalonde, old-time Canadian player, has taken over the reins. Last year's team is intact. Chicago has a new manager in the person of Tom Shaughnessy, former Notre Dame coach, while the Hawks have also strengthened their line-up somewhat. The Detroit team will not be changed much from last season's squad. Jack Adams is still manager.

Tonight's schedule sees Canadiens at Ottawa; New York Rangers at Montreal; Chicago at Toronto; Boston at Detroit. The Americans at Pittsburgh, get in action Saturday night. An innovation to this year's schedule is that the ten teams do not play on any one night.

Jose Capablanca Sends Challenge To Chess Champ

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Jose Capablanca, Cuban chess master, has issued a formal challenge to Alexander Alekhine, Russian expert, who has just won the world's chess championship at Wiesbaden. The Cuban hopes that the challenge will be accepted shortly and expects that the matches will be played either in New York or Brazil Beach, N.J.

PROMOTER CONVICTED ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Pete Ladjone Sentenced to Thirty Days in Jail for Assaulting Gus Sonnenberg

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—Pete Ladjone, promoter, was convicted on a charge of battery brought by Gus Sonnenberg, heavyweight wrestling champion, by a municipal court jury last night, and was sentenced to thirty days in jail.

Sonnenberg testified that Ladjone called him on the telephone, October 22, asking him to talk over some proposed wrestling matches. He said he met Ladjone on a downtown corner.

"We walked to Sixth and Broadway (a principal intersection) and stopped to talk—then, quick as lightning, something struck me in the face and I went out," Sonnenberg, whose flying tackles carried him from Nebraska gridiron to the wrestling throne, testified.

"When I came to in a second he was standing over me, saying he had licked the world's champion, and that I was a cheery champion anyway."

The jury deliberated ten minutes. Ladjone's attorney filed notice of appeal and the promoter was released under $1,000 bail.

British golf stars, Tolley and Mitchell for example, advocates taking the clubhead straight back from the ball along a continuation of the line of flight when starting the back swing.

We have no quarrel with them. Our job is to set down in these little articles the theories and practices that the stars of golf advocate. We recognize that they know more about it than most of us. Their standards of play are all we have to go by.

Arthur Goos tells us that such a back swing cannot be made, that it is impossible from a physical standpoint. He says that the orthodox back swing is to take the club back slowly in control of a straight left arm, shaft and arm going back together.

As the swing is from the left shoulder joint the clubhead must swing back on an arc inside the direction line. Next, the relation of arms and body in the swing.

Champ's Off Day Is Chance for Duffer

ONE OFF DAY MAY RUN A FRONTIER WHO MUST BE CHAMPION

UPSETS IN FOOT-ARREST FREQUENT

OFF DAYS ARE COMMON IN BASE BALL

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

"Off days" play an important role in the lives of athletes in any sport you can mention.

Every athlete has days on which his muscles for some reason or other are not quite up to par, and his mind not quite as alert as usual and the will to win lacking.

Baseball clubs have their tragic "off days" as witness the Chicago Cubs in the recent world series. No ball club in the world can come from eight runs behind and score ten runs in one inning without getting all the breaks, and the other club having an "off day."

All great tennis players have off days. Sprinters are rarely right and their off days are frequent. Even horses have their off days as many of the "form" players will vouch for.

The Only

Sanitary
Underwear

At the University of Nebraska it
was recently discovered that skin cleanliness depends largely on two things. First—changing underwear often. Second—wearing knit fabric underwear because of its superior sanitary qualities.

Penmans 95—Canada's leading knit underwear—conforms to all the specifications laid down by health specialists. It is light of weight, sanitary, elastic, porous and absorbent. It is warm because the knitted fabric is honey-combed with layers of air-spaces which conserve body-warmth and resist the entrance of cold air.

Let Penmans 95 keep your body healthful and comfortable this winter—indoors and
out. Made in all popular styles and lengths for men, women and children.

years, whether or not such players
as Karel Kozeluh, Kinsey, Rod-grass, the Burke brothers and some of the other professionals can take the measure of men like Cochet, Tilden, Schaefer, Borotra and other famous amateur stars.

From all accounts, the Australian association intends to run their first open championship along the same lines as the golf championships,
where the professional, if he wins,
receives a money prize and the
amateur the customary silver cup.
This does not in any way impair
the standing of the amateur.

The most important thing in connection with the holding of an open event in the tremendous changes that will have to be made in the schedule of tournament play. Each country has a regular list of tournaments throughout the summer,
which means that the open tournament must be sandwiched in between.

I think this will cause much confusion during the first year of open championships, since the tournament schedules are already pretty well filled up. However, these details can undoubtedly be ironed out in the course of a year's time, and the tremendous interest that will be immediately manifested in open tournament play will more than repay those who are responsible for this drastic change in the game.

It is my contention that the minute tournaments become a permanent fixture in the game, lawn tennis will take its place in the sun of sport. In this country it will add just the impetus that has been sadly lacking in the game since the Davis Cup left these shores in 1927.

TO INVITE AMATEUR STARS
Just who among the amateur stars will be invited to compete is not known, but it would not be at all surprising if such well-known players as Cochet, Borotra, Lacoste, Tilden, Van Ryn and other outstanding amateur court figures will be on hand to compete in this memorable tournament.

Unquestionably, the Australian association also will endeavor to have most of the leading professionals take part. Kozeluh and I will be there on tour, and more than likely such well-known pros as Howard Kinsey, Harvey Snodgrass,
the Burke brothers, Rammillon, Richter, as well as a number of other European pros, will make the long journey to compete in the first open tennis championship.

The example of the Australian association in holding such an event undoubtedly will be followed by every other country in the world
during the season of 1930.

England has already announced
plans for an open championship next summer, and there has been considerable talk here of holding a similar event at the West Side Tennis Club in 1930, although nothing definite has been announced by either the amateur association or the professional organization.

Tennis fans the world over will rejoice at the news of an open championship. Since 1926 those following the court game have clamored for the same condition in tennis as the golfing world enjoys.
The fans want to see the best player win, whether he be pro or amateur. Under the existing rules of the United States Lawn Tennis Association this is an impossibility, since the rules say that an amateur cannot play a professional when a gate is charged.

RULES TO BE CHANGED
Naturally, with the advent of an open championship this rule must necessarily be cast out. The change will be of tremendous help to the game if every lawn tennis playing country in the world.

It will answer the long, drawn-out argument that tennis followers have been having for the past four

VANCOUVER, Nov. 13.—Billy Townsend, Vancouver lightweight, who fought such a slashing draw recently with Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion, will henceforth be fighting under the direction of J. McCranor, a Vancouver sportsman, who has been a close student of the mitt game.

Billy's contract with Jack Allan expired on October 23 and arrangements could not be made for his return. Townsend and McCranor will spend the next couple of weeks at Port Alberni, where the former will train for his fight with Al Foreman for the Canadian lightweight championship at the arena on Wednesday, December 4. This fight is to be promoted by Jack Allan. The bout will be twelve rounds at 135 pounds.

Early in January Townsend and his brother Joe, with McCranor, will leave for the South and East for a six months' trip, during which time they propose to take on two or three good boys, including Eddie Mack and Goldie Hess.

By reason of his last fight with Wildcat Carter in California, Townsend is a big drawing card in the South.

One-Sided Scores Chalked

Y.M.C.A. Gymnasium

FRIDAY'S GAMES POSTPONED A DAY

One-sided scores featured last night's cage games played at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium by teams in the City Basketball League. The Foresters trounced McLennan, Mc-Peckley & Prior 51-14. Axioms won from the Hudson's Bay Company
women's quintette by a 32-5 score,
while the Navy men's "C" cagers triumphed with a 25-7 victory over Motor Mechanics.

Scoring almost at will Foresters
had little difficulty in trouncing Mc-Lennan, McPeckley & Prior five 51-14. Twenty points by Bob Addie and eighteen by Martin tells in a few words of the victory of the lodgemen, who were on the long end of a 30-7 score at the rest interval.

The teams were:
Foresters—Addie (20), Martin
(18), Cann (6), Irving, Reynolds
(7), Moore and Fennell.
McLennan, McPeckley & Prior—
Veitch (1), Dempster (6), Hodgson,
Partington (3), Seabrook (4), Mc-Gavin and Spencer.

AXIOMS WIN
With Jean Milliken and Jean Anderson netting ten and eight points, respectively, Axioms women's
"B" cagers had an easy time with the Hudson's Bay Company representatives and won 32-5. The teams were:

Axioms—J. Anderson (8), J. Milliken (10), B. Penzer (2), N. Ames
(2), R. Bethel (6), G. Stipe (4) and
K. Preston.
Hudson's Bay—B. Essler (2), G.
Cook, E. Matthews (2), P. Buxton
and G. MacDonald (1).

NAVY WINS WITH EASE
Navy men's "C" cagers walked through the Motor Mechanics for an easy 25-7 victory. The sailors, on the long end of a 19-2 count at the rest interval, found the mechanics fighting an uphill battle in the second half, and as a consequence were only able to add four points to their total. Motor Mechanics, who added five points to their total, had the satisfaction of outscoring their opponents in this half. Donald, with thirteen points, was the leading scorer. The teams were:

Navy—Smith, Pest, Barr (10),
Donald (13), Freeman (2), McRae
and Stone.
Motor Mechanics—Rollinson, Tompson, Anfield (4), Johnson (3)
and Farmer.

TONIGHT'S GAMES
Three games will be played at the Centennial gymnasium tonight commencing at 7:30 o'clock:
Senior "C"—James Island vs.
Keating.
Women's "B"—Standard Steam
Laundry vs. Keating.
Senior "C"—Pourex vs. Colonist.

Games scheduled for Friday night
at Victoria High School gymnasium have been postponed until Saturday.

goalkeeper, being in the defend-area when the puck is not actually in that part of the rink, has changed and now reads that on three defence players, including 2 goalkeeper, may be in the defend-area "until any member of the attacking side has crossed the blue line."

The change is an important one as it means that if a player on the attacking side crosses the blue line
into his opponent's defence area ahead of the puck then his cover-
the opposing side may follow him.
This will, it is believed, tend to prevent the puck carrier dashing across the blue line and whipping a pass to an unmarked man who has ceded him into that territory.

Big League Batting Champs Played With Edmonton Eskimos

Herman and Manush Learned Some of Ball Knowledge in Canadian West—Hockey Players Turn to Various Trades in Off Season

EDMONTON, Nov. 13.—The wide open spaces of the Canadian West certainly sprout bigger and better athletes. Heinie Manush, the St. Louis Browns' outfielder, captured the 1929 bat honors in the American Baseball League, and the leading hitter in the National League was Babe Herman. Both of these players, in the days of the Western Canada Baseball League, performed in Edmonton Eskimo uniforms. Manush in centre field and Herman at first base.

Catching for the New York Yankees regularly is John Grabowski. John broke into baseball with Saskatoon in the old W.C.B. League. In these parts remember the announcement of the batteries: "Sammy Beer, pitcher, and John Grabowski, catcher, Saskatoon." The way his Ump's used to say it, gave the impression that the two would go to make up a "wobbly" battery, but it was seldom that they did.

Before the Western Canada Hockey League broke up and the players were absorbed into the teams operating franchises in the National League, Eastern critics had their own opinions regarding the ability of many of the Western players. In their opinion the East had the greatest players, the West was only operating in order to provide a "feeder line" for the N.H.L.

OPINIONS REVAMPED
These opinions have had to be revamped. Eddie Shore, Edmonton Eskimo defence man and now with the bustling Boston Bruins, rated the greatest defence man in the business, is one reason.

Art Gagne, Johnny Sheppard, are others.

The Cook brothers, Bill and Bunny, formerly of the Saskatoon Sheiks, are two more. They are with the New York Rangers.

Herm Gardiner, Red Dutton, Tiny Thompson, Herbie Lewis, Harry Oliver, are some that Calgary can put forward.

When the boys were finally "sold down the river" to the National Hockey League bosses, they more than gave of their best, they literally "burned up the league."

All of these ice stars are preparing for the coming N.H.L. season, which opens this week. Many of them have little to do in the way of conditioning themselves, for their work during the summer months is strenuous enough to keep them in excellent shape.

Eddie Shore, most famous of defence men, is a farmer at Daugh, Alberta, and on his weekly visits to Edmonton he appeared to be ready for one of his greatest seasons. His 1929 crop, by the way, is very fair. He had 160 acres sown. His farm is 320 acres.

Art Gagne is a brakeman on the Canadian National Railway, working out of Prince George, B.C. Art, who went to the Montreal Canadiens after leaving the Eskimos, will next season perform with the Boston Bruins. He will be in shape. Arthur always is.

Johnny Sheppard is working on an invention. "Jawn" is a member of the New York Americans, joining that team last year after being sold by the Eskimo management to the Detroit Cougars. According to Johnny, the invention, when completed and made workable, will do away with the formality of having to use gears in an automobile. He expects to have the machinery soon.

COOKS ALWAYS IN "PINK"
The Cook brothers are big "butter and egg" men in every sense of the word. They are farming a full section in Saskatchewan and these boys are always in the proverbial "pink." They are two of the New York Rangers' most useful men and are continually making goalkippers in the National League pick ups out of the hump behind them.

Herb Gardiner, big noise of the Montreal Canadiens, and a mighty defence man, is a railway surveyor, the Canadian Pacific Railway being his employer. No wonder Herb is big and tough and always in good condition. His work demands this.

"Red" Dutton is a railway contractor. He is a member of the Montreal Maroons and has more than made a name for himself in the N.H.L. as a defence man. When Dutton hits, they stay hit and his work of tossing ties around in the summer months, helping place steel rails, etc., must go a long way to giving him plenty of strength.

Tiny Thompson plays baseball and works on his father's farm just out of the city of Calgary. He is the goalkeeper of the Boston Bruins, and after being drafted from the Minneapolis Millers he more than made a name for himself with the Boston Bruins, displacing the veteran, Hal Winkler.

Herbie Lewis, center ice man for the Detroit Cougars, spent the summer working in that city, managing a filling station. Herbie and "Tiny" were not playing in the Western Canada League in the old days, both being members of the Calgary Canadians, a splendid junior team. Last winter was their first in the "big time," and they both made good, right from the start.

KEATS STILL AT IT
Performing in the minor leagues, Edmonton has Gordon B. "Duke" Keats, playing manager for the Tulsa Oilers in the American Hockey League. Duke was one of the greatest centre ice men that played on a boot, and judging by the way he is performing in Tulsa, he still has that "something" that makes a great player.

Leroy Goldsborough is with the Springfield Indians, in the Canadian-American League. "Goldie" has been a regular for the Indians the past two years and it will not be long before the Rangers will be calling on him, the Springfield team being the Rangers' farm.

Tom and Gene Carrigan are also Edmonton boys in the minors. Tom is the goalkeeper for the Hollywood Millionaires in the California Hockey League. He has held down this position the past two years and in a series against the New York Americans last year, played a whole of a game.

Gene was drafted from the Millionaires to the New York Rangers and then sent to the Springfield team for seasoning. Gene was bothered with a bad knee; when least expected it would refuse to function, but that trouble has been overcome and he is now going great guns with one of the snappiest aggregations in the minor leagues.

HERE are some Western products now blossoming in big time in baseball and hockey: Upper, left to right, are Johnny Sheppard, formerly with the Edmonton Eskimos hockey team, now with the New York Americans and one of the most dangerous scoring threats in the National Hockey League; Art Gagne, now with Boston Bruins and another former Eskimo, who last year was with Montreal Canadiens; "Peeless Joe" Simpson, another New York American stalwart, who once graced an Edmonton uniform, and Gordon "Duke" Keats, the evergreen centre star who now toils most successfully for the Tulsa Oilers in the American League. The central figures, as indicated, are John Grabowski, Babe Herman and Harry Manush, others who came out of the West to splash across the baseball firmament. What Herman and Manush achieved with the hickory this past season is nobody's business. And the bucolic-looking gent adorning the binder shown at the bottom is none other than Eddie Shore, colorful defence man with Boston Bruins, world champions, as he looked "bringing in the sheaves" on his farm near Edmonton.

Defeat of Langford and Graham-Paiges in Division III of Badminton League Are Upsets

Two upsets occurred in the Third Division of the Lower Island Badminton League in the last matches played when North Saanich and Fairfield Clubs subdued the Langford Leghorns and Graham-Paiges, respectively. In the other match, the Garrison journeyed to Saanich and returned with a 9-7 victory.

NIGHBOR SIGNS OTTAWA CONTRACT

Veteran Poke-Check Star Comes to Agreement With Management of Senators

A Canadian was showing a Scotman the Niagara Falls.

"Isn't it beautiful? Isn't it wonderful?" he said.

"For bonny I'll not say. As for wonderfu', I once saw a peacock at Peedies w' a wooden leg."

OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—Salary deficits having been satisfactorily adjusted, Frank Nighbor late this afternoon signed a one-year contract to again play with the Ottawa Hockey Club of the National Hockey League.

The far-famed "poke-checking" veteran will be in uniform when Montreal Canadiens invade the Capital to set the league's 1929-30 schedule under way tomorrow night.

The break between Nighbor and the Ottawa management came over the efforts of the club to cut down the "Pembroke Peach's" last season's salary of $7,200 by $2,000. The salary figure contained in the one-year contract to which Nighbor finally affixed his signature was not made public.

ACE HUDKINS IS AT ODDS WITH BROTHERS

Parting of Ways Expected—Hollywood Matchmaker Planning Comeback Campaign for Ace

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—The rocky trail which led Ace Hudkins and his brother managers, Clyde and Art, from the ranks of the unknown to two middleweight championship fights, apparently has brought them to the parting of the ways.

Tom Kennedy, former Hollywood matchmaker, who arranged the first bout on the Pacific Coast for the Wildcat from Nebraska, today was busy himself planning a comeback campaign for the fighter who two weeks ago failed in his second attempt to wrest the 160-pound division title from Mickey Walker.

Kennedy announced yesterday that he had purchased the Hudkins contract.

The proposed amendment is slated for discussion and action at the federation's annual meeting in Paris about March 15, 1930, and if passed by a two-thirds vote will become effective immediately.

This section marks the first step taken by any nation holding membership in the Federation looking toward an open championship. The proposal, in effect, will allow each national association to sanction such competition by giving written permission.

I stood on the slithery paving, "Caramba!" and didn't I sneeze, For the bus to arrive I was craving To trundle me home, and to ease.

As it jerked into gear I reclined on an ear And I frankly admit that I swore, I can tell you dear friend, When the journey did end I was not in condition for more!

I strolled 'round the waiting-room, cooey, The coaches were waiting outside, And I thought . . . "How exceedingly rosy, One's patience no longer is tried!"

No worry, no hurry, No flurry, no scurry, The drivers are kind and polite— New buses, no fusses, No musses, no cusses, Transportation today's a delight!

INDIA NOT RIPE FOR DEMOCRACY

Nawab of Bhopal Makes Declaration in Speech to His Legislative Council

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The Nawab of Bhopal has the reputation in India of being the most energetic and the most enlightened member of the younger generation of the native princes. His speech at the opening of his legislative council, which has just arrived by air mail, is a statesmanlike document, showing true insight into the problems attending the rapid introduction of European political ideas into an Eastern land. His Highness has closely studied the progress of the reforms in British India and is in sympathy with their main ideals. He says:

"I want to make no secret that personally I have very strong leanings towards democracy; not the Western form of democracy, but democracy in the broader sense of the word."

CENTURIES OF WORK

But he has no sympathy with attempts to force an ancient people hastily into a ready-made political mould.

"As far as I know, the princes are by no means opposed to the principle of democracy. Why should they be? After all, the true aims and objects of all forms of government are the same, be they on the lines of Indian kingship or the American republic. Both can serve the best interests of a country and be a blessing to humanity; but both are open to temptations and can be a menace to a people. Why then quarrel about form? why initiate methods of administration so far unknown to the country? Instead, why not reform ourselves where reforms are needed, and yet retain our indigenous system which has stood the test of centuries?"

"Gentlemen, let nobody for a moment suspect that when we hold views against an immediate change to democracy we are opposed to its principles. We do so because we believe that a fully democratic government can only be successful in a country where a very large number of the people know what is best for them. An honest examination of our conditions, I am afraid, reveals that at the present stage of our moral, mental, and physical development this is not the case with us."

"You cannot alter these conditions by, so to say, a wave of the magic wand. You need centuries of persistent and honest work, and I think that it would not be practical politics to aspire to rule with any success a medieval people by twentieth century methods. I am convinced that the success of an Oriental people lies in their remaining Oriental."

Shingles Are to Be Retained on U.S. Free List

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Retention of shingles on the free list was voted today by the Senate.

The vote was 49 to 29.

The Senate in so acting sustained the recommendation of its finance committee. The House had proposed a 25 per cent duty.

A vigorous contest was waged on the Senate floor by members from the Pacific Northwest, to obtain a duty on the product.

They contended it was necessary to meet important competition, principally from Canada. It was further argued it would regulate the lumber industry so that it would assist conservation of forests by permitting the working out of a reforestation programme.
